SHERIDAN.

WILL ARRIVE TO-NIGHT.

WELCOME THE CHIEFTAIN AND STATESMAN.

As will be seen by the following dispatch, Major General PHILIP H. SHERIDAN, the distinguished soldier and statesman, will arrive in the city this evening, at ten o'clock. It is not known whether he will remain over night in the city, and it is proposed to give him a reception at the Union Depot on his arrival, in which all loyal men are invited to participate. The following dispatch is in answer to one inquiring by what route he would come to the city, and when he would arrive:

CINCINNATI, O., September 18, 1867.

W. A. HERRON:—By the Pan Handle route, and will arrive at Pittsburgh at ten o'clock P. M. to-morrow. P. H. SHERIDAN.

THE Boston Post is forced to admit that the result of the California election is no proof of the decline of Republican strength in that State.

THE Harrisburg Telegraph makes a timely appeal for harmony among the Republicans of the State, and for activity in the local organizations. The Telegraph might have proceeded to remark on the folly manifested by those whose office it is to insure harmony and activity in pursuing a course calculated to do anything but produce the state of things which, in common with the great body of Republicans, it wishes to see exist.

THE National Tobacconists' Convention, composed of delegates from the principal cities of the country, is in session in Cleveland. The Convention, on Tuesday, after lengthy debate, adopted a resolution calling on Congress to reduce the tax on all kinds of manufactured tobacco to ten cents per pound, cigars excepted. An executive committee was appointed to prepare a memorial to Congress presenting the reasons for the proposed tax.

THE ravages of the army worm, it is announced, are stopped by a very effective way, which has been put into operation in Louisiana. At one stage of their career the worms web themselves on the upper branches of the cotton plant. While in this situation the plan is to go through the fields with scissors or shears in hand, cut off the branch or branches on which the cocooned webs are attached, and burn them.

JONATHAN H. HASBROUCK, President of the First National Bank of Kingston, Ulster county, New York, has swindled that institution and its depositors out of over $300,000. It appears that the Hasbrouck family have been the "leaders of society" in Kingston, and have been astonishing everybody in that region for years past with their dashy shows and reckless extravagance in dress and living. Hasbrouck, it seems, while pretending to invest the funds of the bank and his friends in good securities, appropriated them to his own use, spent it on his family, or lost it in stock gambling.

THE evidences of the atrocities which have been committed in the island of Crete, by the Turks, are multiplied and confirmed by a curious discovery—of which more when circumstances permit—of a journal kept by a personage with the army of Omar Pasha. One will show how false the pretense of restraints held over the troops are. Two officers, of whom one a Colonel, quarrelled which should have first possession of a beautiful girl, and, not coming to a compromise, threw her living into the flames of a burning house, where she perished. Some of Omar's body-guard, having taken possession of a Christian boy, who perished in refusing their embraces, tortured him by slow stabbing, until he died resisting.

A. A. LOW, the æronaut, thinks he has found out a way to manufacture ice. His process is simply this: It is a well known fact that the process of evaporating condensed carbonic acid gas absorbs an immense amount of heat and produces a corresponding degree of cold. Quicksilver is speedily frozen by this process, and the thermometer is said to show 275 deg. below zero. Mr. Low has invented a machine which is said to make this agency available for the manufacture of ice or the production of cold, and that too at very little expense. He thinks he can manufacture ice at three dollars a ton in any part of the world. The machine is so arranged that it economises the material and uses the same gas, with very little waste, over and over again.

THE recommendations of the International Sanitary Conference have just been published in France, together with an official report upon their application to practice. It would seem that no doubt was entertained of the contagious character of Asiatic cholera, and great prominence is given to the measures to prevent its introduction into Europe. Among these measures are the establishment at the entrance of the Red Sea of a strong sanitary administration, the prevention of communication by sea between Egypt and the Arabian ports, and a strict surveillance over the bands of pilgrims both on embarking and on landing. Above all it is proposed to attempt the extinction of the disease in India where it has its origin. This is a very important matter, and there would undoubtedly be a feeling of greater safety, if these measures were strictly carried out.

THE Constantinople correspondent of the Tribune writes as follows: The Quaker City arrived in Constantinople a week ago, having failed to land at Athens on account of quarantine. She had sixty-five Americans on board, and reports all well. On Monday last she left for Sebastopol and Odessa. It is understood that the passengers intend to go to Yalta, and see whether his Majesty the Czar will be as attentive to them as he was to Captain Fox at St. Petersburgh. It is hard to see what claim a promiscuous company of excursionists can have upon the time of the Czar, but he is a good natured man and may receive them well. The steamer will be the first American steamer ever seen at Odessa, and perhaps the second which has ever been seen at Sebastopol. It is said the owner is very anxious to sell the steamer to the Russians, but she is not at all adapted to the trade of the Levant.

MANY will recognize the correctness of the following directions of the New York Gazette "how to see Broadway:" The true way to enjoy Broadway is to take the arm of a friend and proceed to take everything in the coolest possible way. Be surprised at nothing, but look at everything. Let nothing whatever induce you to hasten your pace beyond an agreeable "saunter." Stop at every window which offers the least possible attraction, and look at it as long as you like. Don't be in a hurry—remember that the curtain rises every day on Broadway—the curtain of night, by the way, which nature lets down, according to the poet, and "pins it with a star." Remember that the "run" is indefinite, and that what you do not see to-day you can see to-morrow. If you must return to Chicago to-morrow, why see what you do see thoroughly, and have some definite idea of it when you get home.

THE way those who think they are supremely wise concerning what is going to happen in the political world talk is extremely funny. For instance, the Herald has all at once discovered that Mr. Chase is master of the Presidential situation. On the other hand, the correspondent of the Boston Post is of the opinion that the thing depends on several things, thus: "The Radicals," says he, "claim that a Conservative victory or even a decided Conservative gain in either of these States would dampen the ardor of their party, add strength to the President, embolden the Conservative leaders and give prestige to the moderate Republicans—such as Fessenden, Sherman and Bingham. They admit freely that the influence of the approaching election upon the Presidential question must be very great. Senator Thayer, of Kansas, who is here, says a decided Radical victory will insure the nomination of Stevens, Wade or Stanton. A falling off in their vote will bring forward more prominently Chief Justice Chase, while Conservative victories will necessitate the nomination of General Grant or Senator Fessenden."

THE MOVEMENT AGAINST GENERAL POPE.

The First Colored Vote in Richmond.

Pennsylvania Politicians After the President.

Object of their Visit Removals from Office.

Gen. Hancock First Calls Upon Grant.

Grant Ordered Him to Washington.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 18, 1867.

Want General Pope Removed.

Several Alabama officials to-day, reinforced Ex-Mayor Withers, of Mobile, in the movement to get General Pope removed. As yet the President has taken no action in the matter, and it is considered doubtful if he intends to do so at present. Some of the acts attributed to General Pope, such as the suppression of the Alabama News, prove, on official inquiry, to be unfounded.

The Colored Vote in Richmond.

The colored people voted for the first time in Richmond on Monday, and cast an almost undivided vote in favor of the subscription on the part of the city of two million dollars to the stock of the Ohio and Chesapeake Railroad. The Dispatch and the Examiner admit that the negroes voted right, but object to them having voted at all. The Whig says: "The voting yesterday upon the question whether Richmond should subscribe two million dollars towards the construction of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad was orderly, sufficiently animated and by a large majority in the right direction. It was the first time that our colored citizens have exercised the right of suffrage, and we accept as an auspicious fact that their votes were cast upon a great question of peaceful development rather than upon the heated, and in the main unprofitable issues of party politics."

Pennsylvania Politicians.

The Hon. Sam. Randall, accompanied by five other Pennsylvania Democratic politicians of note, most of them candidates in the approaching Pennsylvania election, called to-day on the President and Secretary McCulloch. Their errand was to obtain executive action in the matter of turning more or less men out of office, and they were earnestly supported by the President to the extent that he has power in the premises.

Fitz John Porter's Case.

Fitz John Porter had a long interview with Gen. Grant to-day, relative to the re-opening of his case. Gen. Grant finds that neither the army regulations nor the law provide for any such instance as that presented by Porter, and considerable doubt has arisen as to whether any order in his case will be issued. The President at one time decided that such an order could be issued.

Significant Interviews.

Some significance is attached to the repeated interviews of Attorney General Stanbery with the President, owing to the belief that it relates to the President's legal power over registration. To-day he was closeted with him a long time.

Gen. Hancock Arrived.

Gen. Hancock arrived here to-night, and spent a portion of the evening with Gen. Grant. To-morrow he visits the President. I learn officially that Gen. Hancock was not summoned here by the President as so generally stated. He was on his way to Louisiana when he received a telegram from Gen. Grant, asking his immediate presence in Washington.

Payment of Cotton Claims.

The Treasury Department has commenced to pay the immense cotton claims which passed judgment some three months ago. The amount involved reached as high as two millions of dollars.

A Tennessee Political Mission.

A delegation from Tennessee, with Ex-Congressman Cooper at its head, arrived here to-night on a political mission.

Impeachment.

The evening administration organ declares than in case of impeachment no Senator who has expressed any opinion on it before hand shall be allowed to sit in judgment on Andrew Johnson.

The Scourge at Galveston.

A private letter received at the Treasury Department this morning, from one of the employees at the Custom House at Galveston, Texas, gives a most terrible account of the suffering and desolation occasioned in that section of the country by the yellow fever. Nearly all of the Internal Revenue officers and Custom House officers have died.

WASHINGTON, September 18, 1867.

RETURN OF THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY.

The Presidential party reached here from Antietam at one this morning.

THE NAVY.

The United States steamer Aroostook arrived at Point De Galle, August 1st, and would sail next day for Hong Kong.

The United States steamer Tacony, at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, from Pensacola, lost the following officers of yellow fever during the passage: Midshipman Robert N. Griffin, carpenter Wm. Gellis, and acting assistant engineer Nicholas Cassin.

HEALTH OF OFFICERS IN THE FIFTH DISTRICT.

The following has been received at the War Department:

NEW ORLEANS, September 18.—To General U. S. Grant, Commanding Armies of the United States: General Wharton, Lieutenant Colonel Wood, Major Leslie Smith, First Infantry; Colonel McGonigle, A. Q. M.; Lieutenant Abbott, Sixth Cavalry; Surgeon Clemens, Assistant Surgeon Koerfer, Acting Assistant Surgeons Auerbauch and Deal, are in a favorable condition. Lieutenants Colinoud, First Infantry, and Bogle, Thirty-ninth Infantry, condition not known. Captain Spangler, Sixth Cavalry, and Lieutenant Rosander, Ninth Cavalry, died yesterday. [Signed]

J. A. MOWER, Brevet Maj. Gen.

GREECE WANTS IRON-CLADS.

Information has been received here that the Greek Government has been trying for some time to purchase from our Government two iron-clad vessels.

REGISTRATION IN LOUISIANA.

Advices from New Orleans state that the reopening of Boards of Registration in Louisiana began last Friday. The reconstruction act authorizes five days for revision. None coming under the President's recent Amnesty Proclamation have as yet applied for registration.

THE CHOLERA IN ITALY.

The Consul at Palermo, under date of August 30, reports that the cholera has decreased so that there were only one hundred cases yesterday. The city is resuming a cheerful aspect. The deaths within the year were about ten thousand, or five per cent. of the whole population of the city.

ELMIRA, N. Y.

Railway Accident—Two Persons Killed and Five Injured—A Warning Against Standing on Platforms.

ELMIRA, N. Y., September 18.—A collision occurred on the Elmira and Canandaigua branch of the Northern Central Railway, between Millport and Pine Valley. An excursion train of ten cars was proceeding from Elmira to the Masonic pic-nic at Havana, when it came in collision with a portion of a freight train, which had broken from the main train, standing on the track. The speed of the train had been so much stopped that only those standing on the platforms suffered injury. The engineer and fireman saved themselves by leaping from the engine. The track was obstructed about an hour. The names of the killed are W. E. Tammany, Lock Haven, Pa.; Frank True, Elmira. Wounded—D. W. Kingsman, Elmira, legs and ribs broken; Jas. Thomas, Elmira, leg broken; Ben. Hancock, Elmira, leg broken and otherwise hurt; Richard Lynch, Elmira, hips badly hurt; Warren Larned, Sheppard's Creek, badly hurt in shoulder.

Republican Caucus in Albany.

ALBANY, September 18.—A caucus of the Republican members of the Constitutional Convention has determined to make an effort to finish business by the 10th of October, and submit the constitution to the people at the November election.

New York Constitutional Convention.

ALBANY, September 18.—In the Constitutional Convention to-day, a proviso against the sale of the canals was adopted.

SALEM, OHIO.

Union Republican Demonstration—An Enthusiastic Meeting—A Veteran Stumper—Speeches of Gen. Hays, Hon. C. Delano and Ex-Gov. Dennison.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

SALEM, O., September 18, 1867.

The Republicans had a fine demonstration here to-day. Considering the fact that by a blunder of the State Central Committee, another mass meeting was held at Columbia, ten miles east from here at the same time, and also that Gen. Logan speaks at Alliance to-morrow, the meeting is considered a grand success. The procession was over a mile in length, and flags mottoes and evergreens were borne in profusion. A large number of ladies on horseback were in the procession, lending their attractive presence to the occasion. A feature of the procession was several wagon loads of colored men, many of whom had been soldiers in our army, who carried banners and mottoes appropriate to their position as applicants for the right of suffrage. Two fine bands made the music. Streamers and flags were everywhere visible in the streets, and nearly every house in town was decorated, which speaks well for the loyal sentiments of this community.

The meeting was held in a pleasant grove about a mile west of town, where seats had been provided, which were principally occupied by the ladies, who turned out in force. At least four thousand persons listened to the speeches. Judge Newton, of Mahoning county, presided. He said he was seventy-two years old, but was still able and willing to occupy any position where he could serve his country, whether it was as chairman of a Republican meeting or at work at the plow tail. He should be out every night next week on the stump in his own county, and if an old man could do so much, what ought not the young men do?

Gen. Hays spoke about two hours in his usual able and convincing style, and was followed by Hon. Columbus Delano, who made one of his happiest efforts. Gov. Dennison, who arrived here this evening from his meeting at Columbiana, is addressing a tremendous crowd from the Brodway Hotel, and is often greeted with applause. Under the circumstances the Republicans feel satisfied with the meeting to-day. It is more than twice as large as the demonstration of the Copperheads on Monday. A large delegation will attend the Logan meeting to-morrow at Alliance.

KENTUCKY STATE FAIR.

Fine Display of Stock—Creditable Exhibition in Mechanical and Agricultural Departments—The Entries from Pittsburgh—Turners' National Convention.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

LOUISVILLE, September 18, 1867.

The ninth annual exhibition of the State Society of Kentucky commenced on yesterday. The weather has been fine, and the attendance respectable. The grounds are located about three miles from the city, and are not excelled for beauty in the West. The buildings are permanent, and the amphitheater the most extensive and best arranged in the United States. The display of stock embraces some of the best herds and stables in the South, and has not been equalled since the commencement of the war.

The mechanical and agricultural departments are creditable, and embrace many new and valuable labor saving inventions. The only entries from your city are the Triumph Plow and the Saponifier. The fair lasts till Saturday.

The National Convention of Turners, now in session, has been well attended, and is a great success. J. T. F. W.

VAN WERT, OHIO.

Match Game of Base Ball—Defeat of the Van Wert Club.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

VAN WERT, O., September 18, 1867.

A match game of base ball was played here to-day, between the Kalida Club, of Kalida, Putnam county, and the Van Wert Club, of this place. The Kalida Club gained the victory. The Kalida scored forty-four and the Van Wert forty-three. This is the second match game played by these clubs. In the first the Van Wert was victorious, the game standing one hundred to thirty-two. One of the best players in the Van Wert Club is sick to-day and could not play.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 18, 1867.

ARRIVAL OF CINCINNATI COUNCIL.

The Cincinnati Common Council reached here this evening.

LIBEL SUIT.

Henry Commers has sued the Sunday News for libel, claiming $50,000 damages, for the publication of a sensation story that he seduced a German girl on the passage from Europe, and threw her overboard.

WHISKY CASE.

The case was before the United States Commissioner to-day of the United States against M. J. Ryan and Simon H. Stern, charged with defrauding the Government by illegally moving whisky from a bonded warehouse previously to the duty being paid. Ryan was arrested as the keeper of the warehouse, and Stern as the buyer. The whisky had been consigned from Decatur, Ills., to Browning & Co. The case was continued till the 25th.

CHURCH DIFFICULTY.

It is stated the Presbytery of Shiloh Colored Church have taken possession of the edifice, and obtained warrants for the arrest of the refractory trustees, who refused to permit Rev. H. H. Garnet to officiate, notwithstanding he was elected by a majority of the congregation. The Presbytery have given the keys of the church to a commission, who will take charge of the edifice till the case is decided in the Courts.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

At a meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows to-day, the resolution for the admission of non-beneficiary members was lost. It was resolved to revise the German translation of the written work of the order, and the matter was entrusted to a committee of representatives Muck, of Wisconsin, Deitz, of Georgia, and Garry, of Maryland. A resolution against the abolition of the degree of Rebekah, and providing for a more thorough organization of the work, was not acted on. A charter was granted to the Grand Lodge of Colorado. It was resolved that the State grand bodies be empowered to allow defunct lodges or encampments to be resuscitated upon the application of five members.

HOBOKEN RACES.

At the Hoboken races both races were won by Col. McDaniel's entries; the selling stakes by Black Stone, and the two-mile heats by Red Dick. The time in the latter race was 3:49½ and 3:50¾.

A MISSION FROM ST. DOMINGO.

Havana correspondence of September 12th says Senor Monteeattini sailed for the United States, being chargad by the St. Domingo Government with sundry commissions, the nature of which is not known.

RISTORI.

Ristori had a magnificent reception at the opening performance of Media to-night, by a crowded audience.

BASE BALL.

In the match between the Mutuals and Athletics, the latter of Philadelphia, the Mutuals won by a score of 18 to 17.

MEETING OF TOBACCO MANUFACTURERS.

At a meeting of tobacco manufacturers to-day, resolutions were adopted against the recent Treasury regulations. A committee was appointed to proceed to Washington, and in conjunction with similar committees from Boston, Chicago, and other cities, present a petition to the Secretary of the Treasury praying for the repeal of the obnoxious regulations.

CINCINNATI.

Arrival of General Sheridan and Staff—Buckeye Club Races—New Management of the Burnett House.

CINCINNATI, September 18.—General Sheridan and staff arrived from St. Louis this morning, and will leave to-morrow morning for Washington.

The first race at the Buckeye Club Course Monday, will be for the Burnett House stakes, $1,500, three mile heats, which will be contested by Lancaster, Muggins, Extra Lee, Paul, Revolver, Privateer and Harry of the West.

The terms of the transfer of the lease of the Burnett House between Silas F. Miller and A. C. Joslin, R. J. Menifer and J. W. Dunklee have been settled for $200,000. The new proprietors, A. C. Joslin & Co., have purchased a five years leave, with the entire furniture, fixtures, &c., of the house.

Arrival of the Savannah.

FORTRESS MONROE, September 18.—Arrived, United States frigate Savannah, from Portsmouth, England, for Annapolis.

MEXICO.

Escobedo Denies Writing the Letter Against Foreigners—Imperial Generals Pardoned—Santa Anna.

NEW YORK, September 18.—Mexico City correspondence, of August 29th, says: Escobedo has published a denial of the authenticity of his letter against foreigners.

Castillo and all the Generals at Queretaro who were sentenced to be shot, had been pardoned.

Marquez is reported at Yucatan, at the head of some rebel Indians.

Advices from Vera Cruz say the trial of Santa Anna is daily expected to take place, his counsel having already arrived from the City of Mexico. In Vera Cruz it was generally believed that sentence of death would be passed by the court. As an order, however, had arrived from the Supreme Government forbidding the carrying out of any sentence without the findings of the court having previously been approved by the President as Commander-in-chief, it was supposed that after the trial the authorities intended to pardon the old soldier.

FROM STEUBENVILLE.

A Black Man Speaks in Behalf of his Race—The Union Republican Meetings of Tuesday.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

STEUBENVILLE, September 18, 1867.

The novelty of the proposition, "come and hear what a black man has to say for his race," was sufficient of itself to draw a crowd to the Court House on Monday evening. The speaker, Moses Walker, was a well known, respectable colored man, who has lived nearly all his life in Steubenville. About the time of the breaking out of the rebellion he was sent, principally by friends of his own here, to Liberia, for the purpose of making investigations in regard to the government of that country, and with instructions to bring back a report of the condition of the colony there, for the benefit of those residing in this vicinity, who contemplated emigrating thither.

His answer to the "Democratic arguments against manhood suffrage" was based upon facts, and supported throughout by credible evidence. The negro was a man. Nobody presumed to deny it. Then he had already cast in his vote with the white man at the polls in days gone by, and therefore had a good precedent to follow. The revolutionary struggle, the war of 1812, and this last four years' bloody conflict had proved his patriotism. If religion, virtue, honor and intelligence were to be made the standard for full citizenship in these United States, and the black man should come up to that standard, then he must be entitled to a citizen's privileges. The speech was logical, convincing, and at certain points really eloquent.

Tuesday, though, was the great "gala" day in Steubenville. By far, the largest, most interesting and enthusiastic gathering we have had here since the commencement of the present campaign, was convened yesterday in the Court House yard. The meeting was called to order at half-past one o'clock and officers elected. Hon. T. L. Jewett, President, on taking the chair, introduced ex-Governor Dennison, who immediately came forward. He spoke more than two hours. We were plainly told that the disloyalty of the Democrats, as a party, in not nipping treason in the very bud, had been the cause of our nation's woes. The momentous questions before the people now, were discussed too seriously to call forth laughter, but during the address there were frequent outbursts of applause.

Hon. Columbus Delano followed the Governor. He was not in good health, and proposed to detain the crowd only a few minutes longer. Yet he had not the heart to stop short off, when he saw how eager his listeners were to hear him. They pressed forward towards the platform with upturned faces and such renewed manifestations of interest as caused the speaker to forget the lapse of time. An hour and three-quarters passed, and still the people would have gladly lingered longer, had the eloquent orator been disposed to entertain them. He closed with one of President Lincoln's admirable stories as an application for his argument, and the meeting stood adjourned till evening, when we again met, and were addressed by the same gentlemen. The meeting compared favorably with that of the afternoon. UNION.

WESTERN NEWS.

By returns made to the United States Assessor, it appears that the private banks of Chicago hold an aggregate of five million five hundred thousand dollars. Add to this the deposits in the National banks, as shown on the first of July, and the entire bank deposits of Chicago foot up seventeen to eighteen millions.

A new telegraph line, for general business, has been opened between Chicago, Milwaukee, Northern Missouri, Iowa and Minnesota, and is known as the Independent Telegraph Company. The telegraphic charges are about one-half those formerly charged by the Western Union Line, which has reduced its rates to the same figures.

Dispatches from Montana state that the volunteers had a fight near Yellowstone, on the 1st, with a party of Sioux and Crows, on their way to attack a settlement in Gallatin Valley. The volunteers rescued two men who were badly wounded. The whites lost two men. Loss of the Indians unknown.

An interesting discovery of the remains of ancient inhabitants of the country was made during a recent survey from Cheyenne to Denver. The road passes through high and dry prairie along the bluffs which are full of specimens of the tertiary age. Iron and coal were found in abundance near Cheyenne.

A Western dispatch says five stage stations, between Hays City, Kansas, and Fort Wallace were attacked by Indians on Friday. Forty mules and horses were captured and one man killed and several wounded.

Monday morning a Government train of forty wagons was attacked, east of Hays City. Thirty animals were captured, two drivers killed and several wounded.

Large bodies of Indians are all along the road, and threaten total destruction to travel. They are burning all the hay and grass on the route. Lieut. Howard, Adjutant of the 5th Infantry, lost a valuable horse and $5,000 in greenbacks. A woman and three children were captured, but were subsequently rescued. Disguised white men were among the Indians. Only two Indians were killed during all these attacks. The troops act on the defensive, pending the arrival of the Peace Commissioners.

An Omaha dispatch says the Montana volunteers had a fight with the Crow and Sioux Indians on the Yellowstone on September 1st. Two whites were killed. The Indian loss is unknown.

The citizens of Montana are calling loudly for the Government to stop the Indian outrages, or let them do it themselves.

The Union Pacific Railroad is now finished 460 miles west of Omaha, and within fifty miles of Cheyenne.

The City of Kansas branch of the Pacific Railroad is completed 12 miles beyond the station just accepted by the Commissioners, which carries the track 270 miles west of the Missouri river.

Four brothers named Reidenower, living in Posey county, Indiana, attempted on Sunday to extract the load from a shell which had been lying about the house for months. The shell exploded, killing one, blowing a leg from one, and an arm from another and fearfully mangling the fourth. It is supposed all will die.

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

Accounts from the interior of North Carolina are very unfavorable in regard to the cotton crop.

There is to be a National Horse Fair in Washington next month. Ethan Allen, Gen. Butler, Geo. N. Patchen and other noted horses are to take part in the races.

General Grant has ordered the depot of army clothing and equipage, in New York city, in charge of Gen. D. H. Vinton, to be discontinued, and the greater portion of the stores there will be transferred to Gray's Ferry Arsenal, at Philadelphia. The balance will be sold.

It is said that another prize fight has been arranged between Sam Collyer and Barney Aaron, to come off some time in October. But the point at which it is to occur has not yet been designated. This will be the third fight between these men, the first being won by Collyer and the second was awarded to Aaron.

The Republican Convention at Zanesville, Ohio, on Tuesday, was the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in that city. It is said that not less than thirty thousand persons were present.

A hostler named James Foley, employed at the hotel of John Ball, in Wheeling, was kicked to death by a mule on Tuesday.

STATE POLITICS.

The Democratic County Convention of Northampton county on Monday unanimously nominated G. M. Waltham and Wm. Mitchell as delegates to the State Convention, and Robert S. Brown for State Senator. Lewis H. Stout and George H. Goundie were unanimously nominated for the Legislature.

Judge Woodward, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Twelfth District, is of New England parentage. Is this not an "unpardonable offense?"

The loyal Germans of Philadelphia have organized for the campaign. The loyal Germans of Allegheny are always organized and prepared to vote the whole Union ticket.

STATE ITEMS.

Seager, Deyo and Geodwin, three escaped convicts from the Meadville jail, have enlisted in the army, and are now fighting Indians. The Meadville people think that five years on the plains will be fully equal in degree of punishment to two years in the Western Penitentiary.

A telegraph line is now being built between Tyrone and Lock Haven, and will be in operation in less than two weeks.

The new Presbyterian Church in Tidioute, will be dedicated on Sabbath next.

The postoffice at Wagerfarth, Venango county, Penna., is to be removed to Shamburg Wells, same county, under the new designation of Champion, by which name the place called Shamburg, on the upper Cherry Run, will hereafter be known. Mr. Austin W. Merrick, of Pleasantville, formerly a corporal in the 111th Pennsylvania regiment, has received the appointment and commission as Postmaster at Champion. The change from Wagerfarth will be made as soon as official notification of the discontinuance of the office is announced, probably within a week.

The fifteenth annual exhibition of the Crawford County Agricultural Society is to commence October 2d, and will continue three days at Conneautville. An attractive exhibition is always made by this Society, and those interested should not fail to visit Conneautville.

Mr. Martin Heist, a citizen of Hartley township, Union county, died last Sabbath at the advanced age of 107 years, three months and two days. Mr. Heist's mind was clear, his memory good, and to within two weeks of his death, was remarkably healthy and active.

A serious whisky disturbance occurred at Penn Station, Pennsylvania Railroad, among some miners, on Saturday evening last. Quite a number were seriously injured, and one man, John Miller, a German, it is thought cannot recover. About fifty were engaged in the melee, for forty of whom warrants have been issued.

Mrs. Kuhns, who resides at Callensburg, Clarion county, has reached the advanced age of one hundred and three years, but is still active and retains all her faculties to a remarkable degree. Mrs. Kuhns was born January 8th, 1764, in Northampton county, and was married to Samuel Alexander, of Greensburg, Westmoreland county, but the date of the marriage is not known. Mr. Alexander was killed during the war of 1812. The lady was afterward married to Mr. C. Kuhns, also of Westmoreland county, and removed to Clarion county, (then a portion of Armstrong county,) about fifty years ago.

Dean Graves, the confederate of Charles Chase in the murder of Elizabeth McDonald, in Jefferson county, has been arrested in one of the Western States and committed to jail to await a requisition from the Governor of Pennsylvania. The arrest was made by Mr. Kepler, of Crawford county, who has been on the track of Graves ever since the murder of the young man John Doyle, near Titusville.

On Saturday last, Jacob Kempinsky, who was arrested a few days since on the charge of attempting to defraud his creditors, had an examination before Justice Donaghy at Petroleum Center, and in default of $5,000 bail he was committed to jail at Franklin.

Two noted pugilists, Parkinson, of Tamaqua and Kelly, of Philadelphia, who have already had two ring fights, in the latter of which Kelly was terribly beaten, are matched for another fight, to take place on the 28th of October, somewhere in Virginia or New York. The stakes are $600 a side.

The Washington Reporter says: "The first load of coal from the new shaft sunk at this place, was supplied to our fellow-townsman, Wm. McKennan, Esq., this morning. The vein they have struck is about five feet and a half in thickness, and is of excellent quality. The proprietors of the shaft are entitled to great credit for the enterprise they have displayed, and it is a source of gratification to know that they are about to be amply rewarded for their heavy outlay in the way of time and money."

On last Sabbath, the corner stone of St. James Evangelical Lutheran Church, at Youngstown, Westmoreland county, was laid with appropriate ceremonies. The church is to be built of brick, and will be an ornament to the town.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

THE TYRONE AND CLEARFIELD RAILROAD.

The grading and bridging of the Tyrone and Clearfield Railroad, north of Philipsburg, will be completed by the first of January next. Messrs. P. & T. Collins, who are the contractors, deserve credit for the energy they have displayed in putting this important work through. They have about three hundred and fifty hands employed. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company have the rails delivered at Philipsburg for the laying of the track. The sills are being rapidly got out, and the track laying will commence on the first of November. By the first of January it is expected that the cars will be running to Woodlands. This new road will add vastly to the value of real estate in the neighborhood of Philipsburg, open a new and extensive lumber and coal district to the market, and give a great impetus to the business of this section of the State.

COLUMBUS AND INDIANAPOLIS ROAD.

The Piqua Journal says the workmen are advancing rapidly from that place East, in laying the new rails on the Columbus and Indianapolis Railroad. The new iron has already been placed on about forty-five miles of the West end of the road.

The Fate of Dr. Livingstone.

The following, just received in a private letter from Bombay, will, says the Athenæum, be read with hopefulness by all who are interested in the fate of Dr. Livingstone: "We feel great anxiety here about the fate of the doctor, from whom nothing has been heard for upward of a year. We do not, however, credit the accounts given of his murder by Musa and his Hinzuani companions. Not a single one of the eleven Christian Africans who accompanied Dr. Livingstone from Bombay has returned to us; and we conclude that he has most likely gone with them into the unexplored lake country. Two of them, who educated to a certain extent in the Mission Institution under myself, were young Ajawys whom he had brought to India; and they were well acquainted with the languages of the country to which he was going. Had their master fallen, as described by Musa, both they and their companions (who were all from the Church Mission at Nasik), would, we are confident, have sought to return to India, where they have many warm friends willing to assist them in a settlement in Africa were it necessary."

THE annual report of the Board of Trade at Chicago, just published, gives a tangible proof of the extensive business of that city. It shows that the present capacity of the grain elevators there is 10,305,000 bushels. This is since the recent destruction by fire of one elevator capable of containing 800,000 bushels. During the year ending April 1st, 66,756,660 bushels of grain, including 2,197,787 barrels of flour, were shipped from Chicago. The amount of wheat shipped was 10,341,540 bushels; of corn, 32,953,530; of barley, 1,398,-53-; of oats, 9,564,223; of rye, 1,488,895. The forty-two packing houses packed last season 639,332 hogs and 25,998 cattle. Of high wines, 42,516 barrels were manufactured, 60,402 received, and 65,995 shipped. The receipts of wool were 12,200,640 pounds, and the shipments 12,591,993 pounds. The receipts of butter were 9,126,825 pounds, and the shipments 8,-503,521 pounds. These figures show a commendable progress since 1855, previous to which time the arrival of more than one vessel a year at the mouth of that sluggish river was an unusual occurrence. The value of the crop of 1867 as an addition to the general wealth of the country, and as a means of putting the machinery of labor and commerce in motion, may be illustrated by the fact that on a single day last week, the cash value of the receipts of wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley, flour and fruit at Chicago amounted to $565,487. The value of the same commodities received during the same week is $2,661,258. The receipts at that point during the current week are estimated to exceed in value those of last week.

The Widow of Maximilian.

According to the Belgian journals the Empress Charlotte of Mexico has had an interview with the Duke d'Aumale and the Prince de Joinville. The Queen of the Belgians took them to her at Tervueren and presented them without any previous warning. "Here, Charlotte!" said Her Majesty, "are our uncles from England come to see you!" "Ah! my uncle Henry!" cried the Empress, running up to the Duke d'Aumale, and she embraced him. "And Joinville!" she added, embracing him also. Then she began talking about America, but frequently looked around as if in terror, and at moments she started under apparently the apprehension that some one was about to stab her from behind. She spoke of the Fenian movement in the United States, of Paraguay, and Brazil, but said not a word about Mexico. She evidently wanted to bring the two Princes to speak of that country, but did not succeed. At last she took leave of them with a certain degree of coldness; she was evidently vexed that they did not speak of what she had most at heart.

The following forms part of a Washington dispatch to the Boston Post: There is an ugly piece of scandal touching the movements of a high Treasury official, being discussed on the streets to-day. The officer in question is said to have not only an elegant parlor but also a handsomely furnished bed-chamber in the Treasury building.

BALTIMORE.

Vote on the New Constitution—Majority for it in the State 20,000—Edwin Booth Recovering—His Application for the Remains of His Brother Again Denied.

BALTIMORE, September 18.—The election on the adoption of the Constitution took place in this State to-day. The total vote of this city is 21,916; for the Constitution, 16,240; against, 5,676. The vote is about 8,000 short of that of 1860. Annapolis gives 277 for the Constitution, against 118. The majority for the Constitution will not be less than 20,000 in the State.

Edwin Booth is recovering, and is considered safe from the threatened loss of his arm. He has made application again for the remains of his brother, pleading very earnestly that his mother being very aged, craves the dead body so as to inter it before she dies near that of his distinguished father, who was buried near this city. The request has been denied.

THE TURF.

The Fall Meeting at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, September 18.—The Fall meeting of the St. Louis Trotting Park Association began to-day with a very exciting race between the following horses: Tackey, Dixie, Mollie, Fearless, and Silas Rich. The race was mile heats, three best in five, to harness, for a purse of $1,000, the winner to receive $700, second horse $200, third $100. Tackey won the race in three straight heats; time 2:30¼, 2:29¼, 2:26. To-morrow there will be a great pacing race, in which it is expected two of the competing horses will get down below 2:20.

Arrests in Augusta, Ga.

AUGUSTA, GA., September 18.—The soldiers and freedmen prominent in the late disturbances have been arrested. The former are to be tried by court martial, and the latter by civil court. An inoffensive white citizen was set upon and badly cut this evening by soldiers, who, it is supposed, took him for a colored man.

The Voting in Richmond.

RICHMOND, September 18.—The voting on the subscription to the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad closed to-day without altering the result. About 2,000 black votes were thrown out, owing to the fact that they had forgotten the name they registered by, and handed in votes under different names.

From New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, September 18.—Deaths from yellow fever for the twenty-four hours to this morning were forty-six. The fever is spreading among the towns in the interior.

A colored Judge presided this morning for the first time on the bench of the First District Recorder's Court.

From Memphis.

MEMPHIS, September 18.—The Milliken case was continued until to-morrow.

The city is unusually healthy. There are no apprehensions of yellow fever.

General Yell, a prominent lawyer of Arkansas, is dead.

Acquitted.

FORTRESS MONROE, September 18.—Reuben Clark, who was indicted for murdering Bugler McCarty, of the Fifth United States Artillery, in May last, was acquitted and discharged to-day.

OHIO NEWS.

By enumeration lately taken it has been ascertained that the population of Springfield is now 14,000. About two hundred buildings, varying in cost from $1,000 to $20,000, have been erected this season.

Farmers are busily engaged in cutting and shocking their corn along the Muskingum. The crop will average probably from 50 to 60 bushels to the acre.

The estate of Mrs. Klingling, who recently died in Lebanon, and donated nearly all her property to found an Orphan Asylum, was worth at least forty thousand dollars, instead of fifteen or twenty thousand, as at first stated.

The Vinton Record says a stable belonging to the Hamden Furnace Company, in that county, was burned a few nights ago, the loss being about $7,000. Fourteen mules and one horse were burned. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

A sharp frost was experienced last week in every county almost north of the center of the State line. In many instances the corn blades were killed, and the farmers are now at work shocking their corn.

Great damage continues to be done from fires along the Columbus and Xenia Railroad, in consequence of the protracted drouth, the long grass in the pastures being almost as easily ignited as powder. On Thursday afternoon a fire, near Big Darby Bridge, consumed over two hundred cords of wood belonging to the railroad company. Between London and Columbus fires are almost of daily occurrence, and it requires the utmost exertions on the part of the farmers to save their dwellings from destruction. A vast amount of cord-wood, fencing, and in several instances orchards of fine young trees have been destroyed.

The Tiffin Gold and Silver Mining Company of Colorado filed its certificate of incorporation with the Ohio Secretary of State on Saturday. The corporators are R. W. Shawham, John M. Naylor, Alfred G. Smith, Gilbert M. Ogden and Luther A. Hall, and the intention of the company is to engage in the business of mining gold, silver, copper, lead and other minerals, and manufacture the same in the Gold Run Union Mining District, in Summit county, Colorado. The capital stock is $1,000,000, divided into shares of $100.

A number of horses have died near Wellington, Loraine county, of a disease called, in the neighborhood, diphtheria.

While the region around Bellefontaine has been suffering from drouth, the northern part of Logan county has had seasonable rains, and will have good crops.

The Bryan Union Press says that Mrs. Ann Hopkins, an old lady of that county, over sixty years of age, spun on a common wheel, one day last week, between sunrise and sunset, one hundred knots of woolen yarn of good quality. Mrs. Hopkins had five hardy sons in their country's service during the war.

Messrs. J. A. More, L. W. More, A. McFarlin, P. O. Codding, C. Jackman, J. F. Smith, B. F. Willetts and Page Moon have organized the Western Reserve Collar Company for the purpose of engaging in the business of manufacturing horse collars, harness, etc., at Coddingville, in Medina county. The certificate of incorporation was filed with the Secretary of State on Monday. The amount of capital stock is $20,000, divided into shares of $50 each.

A committee, appointed at a meeting of young men in Sandusky, has in a few days' canvassing secured over three hundred shares of stock in the Straitsville extension of the Sandusky and Newark Railroad. The people of Sandusky are taking a lively interest in the work, which seems to be shared in, more or less, by all the towns on the route.

THE Louisville Journal is evidently longing for another revolution. If Congress does not hold the last proclamation of the President to be legal and binding it calls upon the people to rise and disperse them with the bayonet. The Mobile Advertiser, John Forsyth's paper, closes an article on the proclamation as follows:

But we suppose the President is not beating the wind, that he knows what he is about, and that it is within the purview of his plan and policy to cut the Gordian knot and open the way for the exercise of the privileges which in the name of Constitution, he has proclaimed. Let us not look the gift horse too narrowly in the mouth, but wait with hope and patience to see how it will be managed.

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

It is rumored that Mrs. Cole, the wife of General Cole, who killed Mr. Hiscock for alleged marital trespass, is insane. The report, well or ill-founded, will revive the interest in the case. In any view of the domestic drama, so suddenly changed to high tragedy, it is not improbable that the woman so closely connected with the affair should be driven to madness in contemplating the terrible catastrophe to which she was the voluntary and guilty or the unconscious and innocent motive. The sanity or insanity of Mrs. Cole may have a grave bearing on the issue of the trial to be had at an early day. She is regarded as an important witness, and if lunatic will be disqualified of course.

The death of General Griffin throws the Carroll family in Washington, into mourning. The General married a daughter of Mrs. Carroll, whose husband was for many years Clerk of the Supreme Court. His son, S. S. Carroll, was a Major General of volunteers, serving with distinction in the Army of the Potomac. General Griffin's only child fell a victim but a few days previous to his own death. Mrs. Griffin was residing with her husband at Galveston.

Mr. Dickens's own name is Charles John Hoffman Dickens, and his father, Mr. Thomas Dickens, is entered in the Portsmouth Register as a comedian.

It is rumored here that Maggie Mitchell will retire from the stage after playing a series of farewell engagements throughout the country next winter, preparatory to marrying a journalist in Boston, who has been long devoted to her. The diminutive comedienne has been very successful, dramatically and pecuniarily, on the stage, and though very girlish-looking, is quite old enough to marry. The journalist and she are said to have been engaged for fifteen years, which is a test of the heart as well as of patience. Long courtships are troublesome sometimes; but they are good guarantees for the future.

Leonard W. Jerome is reported to have more than made up his losses on Pacific Mail within the last six months.

Bishop Duggan, of Chicago, has resigned his bishopric. Is it possible that his anti-Fenianism induced the Holy See to invite his resignation? The good Bishop certainly had an unpleasant reception at Rome.

Dr. Hall, of Dublin, Ireland, who is soon to be a New York pastor, has been tempted to remain where he is, by an offer of increased salary. But the Belfast Northern Whig says: "It is believed that Dr. Hall will go to New York; and, whilst his removal will be a very serious loss to the Presbyterian church in Ireland, and to the cause in Dublin, Dr. Hall will prove a center power in New York, and form an admirable and most effective friend and representative of the Irish church on the other side of the Atlantic."

Our Outstanding Balance.

There is outstanding against us an immense foreign balance. Estimates based upon the returns of the Bureau of Statistics, show that, for the year ending June 30, 1867, the imports exceeded the exports by about $60,000,000 in gold. To this must be added the interest upon foreign capital invested here, probably $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 more; which carries up the adverse balance to nearly $100,000,000. But from this, again, must be deducted the amount of bonds shipped during the year, an "unknown quantity," but which would probably leave the net balance against us about $65,000,000. However unsatisfactory this statement may appear, yet it would be a great mistake to assume that a corresponding amount will have to be remitted in gold. For years past there has been a steady increase of foreign investments in the United States, and during the last five years this accumulation has progressed at the average rate of not less than $80,000,000 per annum. The only question in this case, therefore, is, what proportion of this balance will go into the form of permanent investment, and what remitted? There can be little doubt but that by far the larger portion will be disposed of in the former method.

THE President one day last week in conversation with a gentleman spoke of the Freedmen's Bureau in the most bitter manner, charging that it was not run for the benefit of the people, but for Radical treason-hatchers. He said that General Howard was filling the whole South with abolitionists—pestiferous fellows every one of them, he added.

CITY MATTERS.

RETURNED HOME.—James Marshall, Esq., of Allegheny City, who has been absent in Europe for some months past, arrived home on Saturday, much improved in health and spirits.

The Aquatic Championship.

Henry Coulter, of the Manchester crew, who defeated William Jackson, Sr., some weeks ago, has issued a challenge to the champion oarsman, James Hamill, to row a five mile race on the Monongahela course for a purse of two thousand dollars. What disposition Hamill will make of this challenge is not yet known, but as champion, if the challenge be made in good faith, he will doubtless accept it. There being an impression that Coulter's time in his race with Jackson—thirty-eight minutes and twenty seconds—was never beaten by Hamill, it is only necessary to say that Jimmy beat Josh. Ward on the Schuylkill river, August 11, 1865, in thirty-seven minutes [illegible] at Newburgh; it is confidentially believed Hamill will do the five miles under thirty-seven minutes.

The Western University—Its Removal Suggested.

The rapid increase in the number of students attending this institution has caused the Board of Trustees to seriously discuss the propriety of a change of location. The present site is certainly not a showy or attractive one, as it is perhaps objectionable in many respects. A committee has been appointed to ascertain whether a more suitable place could not be obtained either in one or the other of the cities, or the immediate vicinity. No definite action has yet been had, but the committee is engaged in looking up a location. It is hardly probably that the crowded city will afford a desirable site for the institution. Allegheny might furnish an eligible plot, but the cost would no doubt be considerable. It is stated that Mr. James Kelly, of Wilkinsburg, has offered to donate to the Trustees a very valuable tract of land, near that village, provided the buildings are located there. If the institution is to be removed from the cities at all, Wilkinsburg is about as desirable a place as could be selected. The trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad would place the institution within easy access of those who reside in the city, and the commutation rates of fare are so trifling as to scarcely offer an objection. Pleasant scenery, attractive surroundings, and an abundance of pure air, would more than compensate for any disadvantages that we can think of at present. The committee have a very important work entrusted to them, and they will doubtless act cautiously and judiciously.

Chartiers U. P. Presbytery.

The Presbytery of Chartiers of the United Presbyterian Church, met at Venice on the 10th inst. Rev. J. B. Johnson was elected Moderator for the ensuing year. A call from the congregation of Canonsburg, addressed to Rev. James G. Carson, was sustained as regular. This, together with calls from the congregation of Chartiers Cross Roads and from Bethesda, in the Presbytery of Westmoreland, were presented to Mr. Carson. The call from Chartiers Cross Roads was declined, and time was given till the coming meeting of Synod in Washington for Mr. C. to make up his mind as between the other two. A certificate of dismissal was granted to Rev. J. W. Bain, to connect with the Presbytery of Sydney. Rev. James A. McKee was released from that portion of his pastoral charge known as the Heads of Wheeling. Mr. Bankhead Boyd was received under the care of Presbytery as a student of Theology. The following resolution, on the subject of contribution to the Boards of the Church, was adopted: Resolved, That eighty communicants be omitted in each congregation, settled and vacant, and that the amount apportioned by the General Assembly and the Synod be and hereby is assigned to the members in excess of the number omitted in each congregation.

It was agreed that the versions of the second volume of amended Psalms not yet considered by the Presbytery, shall be voted on at the next meeting, in Washington, on Tuesday, the 24th of September, at 2 P. M., without being read and without debate. The vote has already been taken on all the versions to the 51st, L. M. inclusive.

Presbytery then adjourned.

Defaulting Jurors—Attachments Issued.

Judge Sterrett yesterday issued attachments for the arrest of a number of jurors who failed to appear in the Court of Common Pleas. When the second case was called for trial, only seven jurors could be mustered. Not wishing to delay the case, the counsel consented to try it with the seven, and thus the business was proceeded with. The penalty for non-attendance is quite severe, but it is always an unpleasant duty for the court to impose the fine. It occasionally becomes necessary to do so, however as jurors at times become very remiss in their duties. The public interests demand that jurors should be prompt in their attendance; and, while we are free to admit that even though the per diem allowance for service has been increased, it does not pay some men to attend in that capacity, yet the service is an obligation that they owe to the public, and it ought to be faithfully and conscientiously rendered. If jurors were allowed to absent themselves just because it does not suit their convenience to attend, the courts would soon be seriously interrupted, if not altogether stopped. The Common Pleas has just commenced its session, and as the list of cases for trial is quite large, it is desirable that suitors, attorneys, witnesses, jurors, and others interested, should be prompt in their attendance. If they are not, the public treasury necessarily suffers. The late Judge McClure used to say (and no man had a higher sense of his responsibilities to the public) that every minute the Court was kept idle, a dollar was lost to the county. Jurors and others whose presence is necessary at Court should remember this, and all ways be promptly on hand when called.

Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The new play of "Caste" has proved to be very attractive, large and fashionable audiences thus far having witnessed its performance. It is one of the best domestic plays of modern times, and interests the audience from the commencement of the performance to the fall of the curtain. It will be presented again to-night. To-morrow evening Miss Thompson will take her farewell benefit.

PANORAMA OF LIFE OF LINCOLN.—On Monday evening next, at Masonic Hall, will be unrolled the great Panorama of the Life of Abraham Lincoln, the martyred President. It consists of a series of paintings, all said to be remarkable for their fidelity to nature. J. R. Murdoch, Esq., the Shakspearian reader will deliver the descriptive lecture.

GRIFFIN & CHRISTY'S MINSTRELS.—As will be seen by an advertisement in another column, this world renowned Minstrel Company will commence a short season at the Pittsburgh Theater on next Monday evening. They have selected this house on account of the extraordinary facilities offered for the production of novelties. We have no doubt of their success, and feel assured that the theater will be filled every night during their stay. Read the advertisement in another column.

CONSOLIDATION.

Meeting in East Birmingham—Speeches by Messrs. John Hughes and N. H. Snyder.

An adjourned meeting of the friends and opponents of consolidation was held last evening at the corner of Carson and Railroad streets, East Birmingham. Shortly before the hour announced for the opening of the meeting, a rain occurred, which doubtless prevented numbers from attending. Burgess Pate presided, and the reporters of the press acted as Secretaries. After the chairman had stated the object of the meeting, he announced that any one present desiring to speak on the subject would have an opportunity of doing so.

REMARKS OF MR. HUGHES.

Mr. John Hughes was the first speaker. He stated that he was not generally on the fence when any subject of public interest was agitated, and he felt no hesitation in announcing that he was in favor of consolidation. There were a number of reasons which influenced him in making this decision. In the first place Pittburgh, which ranked as the second city West of the Mountains, should have the credit belonging to her. The map places the number of her inhabitants at fifty thousand, when it was a well known fact that two hundred thousand would be about correct. We are all part and parcel of Pittsburgh. We are, as it were, the back shop—we make our wares in East Birmingham and sell them in Pittsburgh. The speaker referred to the advantages to be derived from consolidation—free bridges, fire alarms, police, etc.—and stated that even if his taxes were increased five dollars by consolidation, he would save that amount by the bridges being declared free. In the matter of schools a great change was required. There were in the county 574 public schools, and the County Superintendent had in his late report stated that he had been unable to visit them all once during the year. Should consolidation occur, a City Superintendent would be appointed and the law carried out. A great many persons had opposed the incorporation of East Birmingham into a borough, and had to be coaxed not to throw any obstacles in the way of the measure. At that time a lot on the pike which could have been purchased for $500, now readily commanded $4,000. He hoped that the matter would be accomplished, and that the hill sides would be filled with inhabitants in a few years.

REMARKS OF N. H. SNYDER.

Mr. Snyder was opposed to consolidation, as he believed it would be detrimental not only to the interests of East Birmingham, but Pittsburgh also. Speakers and the press tell us that consolidation will prove a benefit, but they do not say how. They tell us that we will have free bridges, but they neglect to add that we must pay for them. Consolidation had been proposed by politicians who desired to secure lucrative offices. He had talked with many persons about the matter, but they had shown very little interest. Two years ago it was proposed to the Borough Council to purchase a lot for the purpose of building a market house. The Council, not deeming it prudent to act at once, submitted the matter to the people, and on the day of election it was defeated by the politicians. The speaker cautioned those present to watch the politicians, and not be influenced by them.

No other person apparently wishing to speak, the meeting adjourned until the second Tuesday in October, when it will re-assemble at the polls.

Court Proceedings.

QUARTER SESSIONS—JUDGE STOWE.

At the opening of this Court yesterday, the trial of the

MOFFITT CONSPIRACY CASE

was resumed. Joseph Johnston, the witness on the stand at the adjournment on Tuesday evening, was re-called for cross-examination, but did not answer.

J. B. Butz, of Bellsville, Washington county, testified to having seen William Dawson, near West Brownsville, on Saturday of the week of Isaac Thompson's arrest.

The prosecution offered to prove a conversation between the witness and Dawson. The defense objected to any conversation with Dawson, who, although indicted, was not present, and not on trial. The objection was sustained.

D. D. Sines, of Brownsville, testified that on the 15th of May, 1866, Moffitt told him that he was in a difficulty with some counterfeiters. Moffitt previously represented himself as a United States detective, and asked the witness not to contradict the statement. Heard Moffitt make threats against Thompson, for a period of over seven months. He said he would break the Thompson's up, and also said that Dawson would turn State's evidence. On cross-examination witness stated that Moffitt had always alleged that Thompson and others were counterfeiters, and that he had received telegrams from the United States Marshal in reference to the matter. Witness had acted for Moffitt in arresting parties, and in hunting up evidence against the Thompsons. In June, 1866, witness wrote a letter to the United States Marshal suggesting the appointment of Moffitt as a detective.

Abraham Garee, farmer, of Washington county, detailed a conversation he had with Moffitt a short time after the arrest of Isaac Thompson. Moffitt asked if he had heard of the arrest of Thompson, and what he thought of it. Moffitt said Thompson was a counterfeiter, and witness replied that if such was the case he ought to be stopped. Moffitt proposed to the witness that if he would assist in this matter he would make him a present of as nice a buggy as he could wish to ride in. Moffitt said he had got Dawson to swear square against Thompson, but he was fearful that without some corroborating evidence he would not get through. Witness could not remember distinctly whether Moffitt said he had given Dawson a buggy or money, but he said it was one or the other. Witness told Moffitt that he could not assist him in the case against Thompson, as he had no knowledge about Thompson passing counterfeit money. Some weeks after heard Moffitt say to a man in Bridgeport that he had no perfect knowledge of Thompson being a counterfeiter, but at this time Dawson had gone away. On cross-examination witness said he had a conversation with Jacob Bryan respecting the probable arrest of Moffitt, but did not tell Bryan to advise Moffitt to run away.

James Lemon, of Bridgeport, testified that Moffitt stated that it would not be any harm for a man to tell a lie to convict the Thompsons. Witness replied that Moffitt could not get him to do that. Moffitt said he had commenced the prosecution of Thompson, and he was going to carry it through. He was after a man named Hoover at the time, and said he had authority to arrest him, but merely wanted him at the next term of court as a witness against Thompson. On cross-examination witness stated that Moffitt spoke of the Thompsons as being counterfeiters, and said he had discovered counterfeit money in a safe belonging to them. He said he had the evidence to convict them.

Wm. M. Dawson, of Columbiana, Ohio, formerly of this county, testified that he saw Moffitt in this city, in May, 1866, between the postoffice and telegraph office, and had a conversation with him; he said he was acting as a United States detective; that he had a man arrested named Dawson, who was then in the Marshal's office; Moffitt said he wanted Dawson to turn State's evidence, and he thought he was going to succeed; Moffitt showed witness a bogus telegram, which he said he was going to represent to Dawson he had received from Brownsville; the paper purported to state that three persons had been arrested for passing counterfeit money, Isaac Thompson being one of them. Subsequently Moffitt told witness that the dispatch had worked like a charm; that the men had been arrested and would be in the city that night; Moffitt said that Dawson knew the gang, and he wanted to get him to make a confession. On cross examination witness stated that Moffitt expressed the conviction that there was a gang of counterfeiters about Brownsville; that Dawson was one of them; and that he wanted to secure him as a witness.

S. C. McCandless, Esq., clerk of the United States District Court, was recalled, and the prosecution offered in evidence the information made by William Dawson against Isaac Thompson for counterfeiting.

The defense objected for the reason that no evidence had been adduced as to any conspiracy between Moffitt and Dawson.

This point was argued at considerable length by Mr. Swartzwelder for the defense, and Gen. Collier for the prosecution.

Judge Stowe overruled the objection, and the prosecution offered in evidence the information against Isaac Thompson, in the United States District Court, dated the 16th of May, 1866, and signed by Wm. Dawson. The information charges that Isaac Thompson had been guilty of having counterfeit money in his possession, and of having purchased from the witness three twenty dollar notes, paying for them thirty-five cents on the dollar.

Other papers were shown, among them the record of nolle prosequi, by which Isaac Thompson was finally dismissed from custody.

R. T. Adams testified that he knew Mr. Dawson, and saw him after the arrest of Thompson.

The prosecution proposed to prove a conversation between the witness and Dawson, in which Dawson admitted that the charge against Thompson was false and groundless. Objected to, but objection overruled.

Witness continued—Dawson asked what the people thought of Thompson's arrest. Witness asked him how he came to swear against Thompson, and he said he did not want to do it, but they would not let him off. Witness asked him who would not let him off, and he replied Moffitt and others.

The Court ruled that this would not be evidence, unless Dawson had gone further, and admitted that he had sworn corruptly and fraudulently against Thompson.

Samuel Thompson, recalled—Had a conversation with Dawson after the arrest of my brother; understood Dawson had made the information, and went to see him about it; Dawson said Moffitt had paid him well for making the information; that Moffitt had him in a tight place, and if he "had not sworn against Thompson he (Moffitt) would have sent him (Dawson) to hell." On cross-examination the witness stated that Dawson did not say that the information against Isaac Thompson was false, but he immediately recalled this and said that Dawson did admit that the charge was false. Witness did not so testify on the first trial, and the reason he did not was because he did not think of it.

J. L. Thompson, also a brother of Isaac, testified that he knew Wm. Dawson, and had a conversation with him. The day after Isaac's arrest, Dawson said if it had not been for Moffitt and the d—d Irishman there would have been nothing of it; Dawson said he was forced to swear what he did, but he did not intend to appear on the trial. Witness told him he would have to appear, and he answered, "tell Isaac when I appear before the Court he will come out all right." Dawson told witness not to come to him any more, as Moffitt had detectives watching him. To this witness answered that his character was good, and he did not care for Moffitt or any other man.

J. P. Butz was recalled and testified as to a conversation he had with Dawson after the arrest of Thompson; Dawson asked witness what the people thought of it, and witness replied that they thought hard of it; Dawson said Thompson had got honestly all that he ever made, and that he (Dawson) was going to leave the country and not appear against him.

Wm. Britton testified that he resided in Washington county; knew Dawson and Moffitt; had seen them together shortly before the arrest of Dave Thompson; saw them frequently talking together at Dawson's tavern. Had a conversation with Dawson about a buggy, in the last week in April or first of May; Dawson said Moffitt gave him the buggy.

Court adjourned until ten o'clock this morning.

COMMON PLEAS—JUDGE STERRETT.

In the case of John Carr vs. Rodgers and others, owners of the steamer "Cosgrave," before reported, the jury found a verdict for the defendants.

J. A. Calvin vs. Pittsburgh Petroleum Vapor Stove and Gas Light Company. Action on a contract for the recovery of wages alleged to be due. Plaintiff claims that he was employed by defendants as machinist and salesman, for a specified term, at the rate of one thousand dollars per year, and that the defendants discharged him before the expiration of the term of service. Plaintiff took a non-suit after the jury was sworn.

Elizabeth McDermott vs. Fitzsimmons and McDermott, administrators of Patrick McDermott. Action to recover money loaned. Verdict for plaintiff, $27 69.

H. McIntosh vs. Seither & Risll. This was an action to recover the value of a gold watch and chain, and one hundred and ten dollars in money, alleged to have been deposited with the proprietors of the St. Charles Hotel by the plaintiff, while a guest at the house. The plaintiff was called to prove the fact of the loss, but the Court ruled the evidence inadmissible. The Court then ordered a non-suit to be entered, with leave to plaintiff's counsel to move the Court in banc to have the non-suit stricken off.

The following is the trial list for to-day:

9. McNeill, Dean & Co. vs. Schaub et al.
28. Lamb vs. Ballou.
29. Cameron et al. vs. steamer "George Albree."
30. Henry vs. Jamieson.
31. Godfrey vs. Ballou.
32. Wagner vs. McClurg.
34. Barkfeldt vs Barkfeldt.
35. J. P. Pearson & Co., vs. Frazier.
36. Meurer vs. Raetz.
39. Rippey vs. Pitts. Grain Elevator Co.

WANTED—AGENTS—For the Great National Work, the finest Book of the Age. An Impartial History of the United States, from the Earliest Period to the Present Time; by J. A. Spencer, D. D. Illustrated with highly finished Steel Engravings from original paintings. In presenting to the public this elegant edition of Dr. Spencer's Great National Work, the publishers forbear extolling its intrinsic value, for which the illustrious name of the author, who has occupied a prominent place in the literary world for many years, is a sufficient guarantee. It contains a complete and impartial History of the United States from the earliest period up to the present day, including an elaborate and unprejudiced narration of events in the recent Great Rebellion. The author has been careful to separate truth from fiction, and to expose wilfull misrepresentation and distortion of facts. This standard work is only sold by subscription, and in a manner which places it within the reach of all classes, and consequently offers extra inducements to Agents, to whom we give the most liberal terms. Apply to J. W. RHULE & Co., 68 Fifth street, third floor.

WANTED—AGENTS—$75 to $200 per month, everywhere, male and female, to introduce throughout the United States, the Genuine Improved Common Sense Family Sewing Machine. This Machine will stitch, hem, fell, tuck, quilt, bind, braid and embroider in a most superior manner. Price only $18. Fully warranted for five years. We will pay $1,000 for any machine that will sew a stronger, more beautiful, or more elastic seam than ours. It makes the "Elastic Lock Stitch." Every second stitch can be cut, and still the cloth cannot be pulled apart without tearing it. We pay agents from $75 to $200 per month and expenses, or a commission from which twice that amount can be made. Address SECOMB & CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

CAUTION—Do not be imposed upon by other parties palming off worthless cast-iron machines, under the same name or otherwise. Ours is the only genuine and really practical cheap machine manufactured.

OUR CANDIDATE.

Hon. Henry W. Williams.

[From the Pittsburgh Post, June 25.]

WORTHY CANDIDATES.

"The nomination of Henry W. Williams as a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, is a good one. He was the best man named before the Republican Convention, and possesses legal and moral qualifications for the responsible position to which he has been nominated. Both parties have now presented their candidates. An important duty has been faithfully discharged by the respective conventions. The campaign may now be conducted without personal aspersions, and decided upon the principles of the two great parties. This is as it should be."

[From the Pittsburgh Post, August 29.]

If the notice of Judge Williams's nomination which appeared in the "Post" at the time, and now kept standing at the head of the Republican papers, is intended as a rebuke for any supposed inconsistency since, it fails in its purpose. We have nothing to take back or modify. Of Judge Williams's private or legal reputation we have nothing but words of praise, and however it may suit some pugnacious and heady politicians, we cannot bring ourselves to view personal assaults as either wise or politic. The Democracy plants itself upon principle and deals with facts, and discusses the public and official acts of candidates.

THE Crawford County system of making nominations was tried in the staunch Republican county of Lancaster this year for the first time, and it worked admirably. Primary meetings were dispensed with, and the Republicans voted for candidates direct. The result is an excellent ticket, and entire harmony.

THE manners of the Post do not entitle it to receive from us an answer to the question it puts, namely: are we in favor of Mr. SUMNER's bill providing for negro suffrage in all the States. If it will at all gratify our contemporary, we will repeat what we have many times said—we are not.

THE Post is worried because the Republican Committee does not intend to print tickets for or against Consolidation, and gives notice that the Democratic tickets will all be printed against the measure. This would indicate that the opposition to Consolidation is to take a party shape. In our judgment the Republican Committee has decided wisely. The question is one for the citizens to determine, and with them, we think, the party committees and managers should leave it.

THE exposure made in the COMMERCIAL, of the Black Mailing operations which have been going on here for some time past, and are still going on, by the self-constituted leader of the JOHNSON party, and home member of the Kitchen Cabinet, has created great satisfaction in the entire community. We will say here that much remains untold. No one pretends to dispute the statements made. There is abundant proof, not only of their correctness, but of many more things yet to be brought to light. Meanwhile the public await the action of Secretary MCCULLOCH. These reprehensible practices have been carried on under the pretense that they were known to and had the sanction of the Secretary. Of course no one will believe this without the best of proof, and the best proof of all will be that he does not see fit to put a stop to them by turning those guilty of them out of office. In the case of CALLICOTT, the organ of the gang does not hesitate to assert that his frauds were, "with the knowledge, if not the complicity, of the Secretary." So grave a charge, although from an insignificant source, is certainly worthy of the attention even of a Cabinet Minister.

WE agree with those who say that it is a fearful thing to talk loosely about violent and bloody collisions, as probable or possible, at the seat of government. That sort of talk was very freely indulged in, seven years ago, when the attempt was vigorously made by the Democrats, North and South, to intimidate Republican voters by the threat of resistance, should they elect Mr. LINCOLN. But the experience that followed the attempt to carry the threat into execution, is not favorable to a renewal of the violence and sedition. To talk of such a thing indicates a weak head or a bad heart, or, more probably, both. Republicans do not indulge in such disloyal speech. They did not in 1860, but the events of 1861 did not find them any the less ready for their duties to the country. It is not the rebels, either, that now talk of internal conflicts and revolutions. It is the peace Democrats that tell us such and such measures will not be peaceably submitted to much longer. This, if we mistake not, was the language of the Post, whilom so pacific, within a week past. Our American people are not easily wheedled or frightened from the path of political duty by such senseless ranting. Nor are they Mexicanised into a fondness for revolutions or an admiration of revolutionists. But they know how to deal with both when the time demands it.

THE question of negro suffrage is not at all embraced in the political canvass now proceeding in this State. It has nothing more to do with the coming election than it had with the elections twenty or fifty years ago. There are some of the Democratic papers which, like the two stringed guitar of the Japs, have but two things or so to harp upon, and they twang away on the negro question for the especial entertainment of a class of the Irish, who, somehow, have a relish for that sort of music. A large portion of our adopted citizens, of Irish as well as of German birth, have nothing but the most humane and friendly feeling toward the colored race. And these are intelligent enough to know, as well as the great body of our citizens, that whether negro suffrage is right or wrong, whether it shall be granted or withheld at some future time, it has nothing to do with the election now pending in this State. The bugbear is held up only to frighten the ignorant and unthinking people, who contracted a prejudice against the negro, a few years ago, when it was imagined that vast numbers of them would come to the north and occupy all the places of labor, on railroads and elsewhere, to the detriment of those who had been employed in them before. The negro question, as harped upon by the Democratic papers, has this class only in view. Their negro monotone is laughed at by everybody else.

RECREATION AND ITS ABUSES.

It is not easy to draw a definite and fixed line of separation between moderation and excess in the matter of recreation. Practically, it must be done by each person for himself, and each one must be separately answerable to himself or his friends for the decision he makes. It may, however, be said, in general, that whatever the recreation may be, it is indulged in to excess, if it be allowed to encroach on the time, attention or strength demanded by the business of life. In its very nature and design, recreation is not an employment but an agreeable interlude, to refresh mind and body after employment and to prepare them for the more cheerful and successful resumption of employment at the proper time. The attractions that essentially belong to recreations naturally tend to excess in the use of them, and consequently the monitions of wisdom and experience as naturally assume the form of cautions. It is absurd, as being against nature, to decry all amusements and recreations, but the warning against some as injurious, and against excess in those which are innocent and beneficial, is in perfect accord with the dictates of philosophy and sound morals.

There has been introduced into some of the wholesome recreations of our times a principle—that of competition—which has a tendency to break down the force of cautions against excess, whether they are suggested by one's own mind or are offered by the solicitude of friends. We do not speak of competition as a new element in recreations. But it has a development and power at present beyond any former experience. And it has a much wider scope and range. It may be said, almost, that there is no more playing or athletic exercises for recreation. Competition has supplanted the original purpose, and made what was designed for amusement a strife for mastery. And hence has arisen, in every department, a race of aspirants to championship, whose ambition becomes engrossing, and sometimes exacting on time, strength and thought which are due to the useful employments of life.

This rank growth of competitive feeling in amusements, has had, and is having other effects, even more objectionable than waste of business, time and labor. Betting on the issue of a game, or a race, is generally classed with gambling, the essential feature and wrong of which is, that the one gets the money of the other party without rendering for it any equivalent. In the eye of the law it is a wrong, to be prohibited. The popularizing of this practice, therefore, would, according to the law, be a public detriment. And it would certainly tend to the prevalence of gambling of other and perhaps more injurious kinds.

It cannot be said of our American people, that they are too much devoted to social recreations. Our range is rather more limited and perhaps our relish of them rather less than those of other nations. It is the more, therefore, to be regretted that the few we have should be perverted from their purpose, or discredited by even occasional excess, or associated to any extent with practices, that both law and morals pronounce vicious.

STANDING MUM.

The Post says that Judge WILLIAMS stands mum and "pledged to sustain the unconstitutional acts of Congress in forcing the negroes upon the voters of Pennsylvania." It would be difficult to crowd more untruths in so short a space. Judge WILLIAMS does not stand mum before the people, as his utterances stand upon the law reports for over fifteen years; he is not pledged to any unconstitutional act of Congress, and Congress has not attempted to force negroes upon the voters of Pennsylvania. So many falsehoods in so short a paragraph is a sad commentary upon the demoralized condition of the party whose tottering ruins the Post so unscrupulously undeavors to hold up.

It so happens that neither of the candidates for Supreme Judge stands mum before the people. Judge WILLIAMS is everywhere known and admired for his scholarly attainments, the varied resources of his well-matured mind, his wise and searching judicial decisions, his uprightness of life, his morals, his sobriety and his undaunted patriotism. Judge SHARSWOOD, the Democratic candidate, is equally well known for the unsoundness of his judicial opinion in BORIE vs. TROTT, in which he aimed what was intended as a fatal blow at the currency of the nation at a time when such a blow, if effectual, might have brought dire disaster on the country.

THE WEATHER

The weather is a subject of conversation, to which every person, without distinction of party, sect, or color, is expected to contribute one or more remark every day of his life. Its value as a theme of discussion, is beyond computation. It is diversified, it is inexhaustible, it is within the comprehension of the feeblest intellect, yet engages the speech of genius; it has few polemic points, everybody agreeing to everybody's remarks upon it; it is a privileged subject, taking undisputed precedence of all others; it is seasonable in all seasons; it is never out of place in any place. Rain or shine, summer or winter, the weather is a prolific subject of discussion, or perhaps we should rather say, of direct, pointed, apothegmatic observations. Newspapers have not used the common privilege so much as others. The omission is felt, as an inconvenience, perhaps as a loss to meteorological science, certainly as a privation to curiosity. We should, for example, like to know whether the sanctums of Boston editors are as near the boiling or roasting temperature as ours to-day, and for three days past. We are curious to know whether the knitted brow of T. W. is covered with the dew drops of prespiration, and whether H. G. wipes his denuded expanse of scalp with his yellow pocket handkerchief. But the heat of politics inures editors to high temperatures. Salamanders in the fire, they mind not the weather, that gives to every body else subject for remarks. And the intense, more than summer heat of the present week is a neglected theme.

Bridging the Mississippi at St. Louis.

The proposed bridge over the Mississippi at St. Louis, to be constructed by the St. Louis and Illinois Bridge Company, will be one of the most magnificent structures of the kind in the world. As heretofore announced, Mr. James Andrews, of Pittsburgh, has been awarded the contract for the entire stone work of the bridge. Mr. Andrews, who built the piers for the great iron railway bridge at Steubenville, and those of other bridges in this vicinity, is now in St. Louis, and will at once commence operations for the work. His contract will amount to over three quarters of a million of dollars, which is less than the estimates of the chief engineer, and is to be completed by December, 1869. The St. Louis papers compliment Mr. Andrews on his reputation as an energetic, skillful and practical stone mason, and we have reason to believe they will have cause to speak well of him and his work from actual knowledge, when he completes his contract. It is also announced in the St. Louis papers that Mr. Andrews will make his residence there. To give the reader some idea of the nature of the stone work on the bridge, we give the following from the St. Louis Democrat:

"It is the great feature of our bridge, which will cost nearly five millions, that it will accommodate two double tracks of rails, one broad gauge, the other narrow, foot passengers, and street railway cars, and will not interfere one whit with navigation; for of the three arches, which together will span the shores of St. Louis and Illinois, the central one is five hundred and fifteen feet, and the two side ones four hundred and ninety-seven feet. The two piers which will support these glorious arches will be such tremendous masses of masonry as to take back the mind involuntarily to Cheops and Cephrenese and their pyramids among the yellow sands of Egypt, and within sight of the tranquil, winding Nile. Soundings made recently in the river have indicated a remarkable change in its bed. The high water being compelled to flow through the narrow channel framed by our wharf and the rivetted shore of Bloody Island, has cut out the sand bottom eighteen feet lower than when the same soundings were made last April. Yet this location is perhaps the narrowest place in the river within fifteen hundred miles of its mouth. From this cause it has been absolutely necessary to place the foundation of the piers upon the rock itself, which is from sixty to seventy-five feet from the sandy bed. Taking this into consideration, the pier at the deepest part of the river will be a mass of masonry two hundred feet high, one hundred and ten feet in width, with a breadth tapering from fifty-five feet to forty feet. The other will probably be one hundred and seventy feet in height, as the rock is met with some thirty feet nearer to the river bottom. It will be acknowledged by all that this will be a stupendous undertaking."

WHEN the Southern people, after reading or hearing of the amnesty, are elated with the news that it seems to bring to them, their first thought is, "now for the voting." And when, to make the hope an assurance, they send a message of mixed adulation and inquiry, to Washington, to know whether they are to have free scope with the ballot, and receive a negative answer, it is not difficult to imagine their mortification and disappointment. The amnesty, therefore, while bringing them no relief, as it ought not and could not, with reference to enfranchisement, only tends to increase their exasperation, and to prolong the bad feeling which they unjustly entertain against Congress and the Northern people. The document itself is a deceptive one, and it is difficult to discover a rational motive for its promulgation.

THE latest returns received from 295 towns and plantations in Maine indicate that the total vote of the State will be about 98,000. Chamberlain's majority thus far is about 11,000. Full returns promise to increase it to about 14,000. York county is still in doubt, though Chamberlain was 91 ahead at the last accounts. Androscoggin county does not elect a single Democrat to the Legislature, thus making a Republican gain of one. Contrary to the previous reports, the Republican Senator in Aroostook is elected. The House will probably consist of about 121 Republicans to 30 Democrats.

COL. FORNEY, writing from Washington, says: "General Grant openly expresses his opinion that the reconstruction measures of Congress are just and necessary, and will prevail over all opposition. On this subject he has not now, and never had, the slightest reserve. The same is true of every military commander in the South."

THE effect of being independent—consequently unpopular—is illustrated by the fact that Henry Ward Beecher has received three hundred invitations to lecture,—and, what is more telling still, he could do better than accept any of them.

Our Claims Against England.

Lord Stanley having accepted Secretary Seward's principle of arbitrating the Alabama claims, the Secretary has introduced a new condition which, the London Herald says, the British Government cannot possibly accept. This condition is the proposal to include in the matters for arbitration the right of Great Britain to recognize the Southern Confederacy as a belligerent power. On this point, the Herald says:

"One can understand referring a claim for indemnity to an arbitrator; but who ever heard of committing questions of national policy to such a tribunal? Arbitration is not possible upon such a point as that newly started by Mr. Seward. It is quite within the province of his government to assume that our recognition was 'unnecessary and premature,' and that it was 'an injurious proceeding for which Great Britain would immediately come under a full responsibility to justify it, or to render redress or indemnity.' This is either a serious menace or mere offensive vaporing, but in any case the country will uphold the government in the attitude it has assumed upon this point. England is answerable to America if the statesmen of the latter country choose to make her so; but in the meantime she will not brook the interference of an outsider in the quarrel which those who are unfamiliar with the temper of Washington diplomacy would imagine that Mr. Seward seriously desires to force upon her."

Mr. Seward holds that previous to the recognition of the Rebel Confederacy the rebellion was only a "domestic disturbance" which was "in fact, only such a seditious insurrection as is incidental to national progress in every State." Had it not been for British intervention giving the Confederacy the status of a political power, the United States could have dealt with this "domestic disturbance." The Herald replies to this:

"The reply to all this is obvious enough, for Mr. Seward begs the whole question when he starts with the allegation that the Queen's proclamation was 'unnecessary and premature.' Her Majesty's Government hold the exact contrary, and it is not within the province of any foreign power to call into question the mode in which they have exercised what Mr. Seward admits to be their undoubted prerogative, of deciding the exact period in which the attitude of this country towards two contending sections shall be defined upon the basis of international law. That which we did we did in the exercise of our right; whether our action was 'unnecessary or premature' is a matter in which we are by no means bound to accept the dictation of the Washington Cabinet, although backed by the threat that we may be called upon to justify it or render redress or indemnity. Of course Mr. Seward does not seriously mean a tithe of what he says; but what a pity it is that he should say it!"

In reply to the point the rebellion only amounted to "domestic disturbance" previous to the recognition of Great Britain, the Herald points to the fact that Southern ports were blockaded, and that in 1861 the American law courts decided "that blockade itself is a belligerent right, and can only legally have place in a state of war." The Herald concludes: "Mr. Seward is now possessed of the unalterable determination of the British Cabinet, and if his government is sincerely desirous of seeing the question amicably settled, his first step must be to recede from the position he has so unexpectedly and so unwisely taken up."

Reliable Statement of Gen. Grant's Opinions.

Congressman E. B. Washburne, of Illinois, a confidential friend of Gen. Grant, was in Boston, last week, and the Commonwealth gives the following interesting account of what he said about the General:

Mr. Washburne regards Gen. Grant as wholly in sympathy with Congress, and its plan of reconstruction. To the particular inquiry of one of our Senators, Mr. Washburne replied that he considered him not only in favor of thorough reconstruction, as the advanced men understand it, but in favor of standing by the blacks in all their civil, social and political rights, as conferred by the reconstruction acts. He was in constant consultation with Secretary Stanton, Mr. Washburne affirms, in regard to the lately impending change in the Cabinet, receiving notice from Stanton just before he went out that his dismissal would soon take place, and was urged by him to accept the place. "Not only was this the case," said Mr. Washburne, "but I know that the letters from Grant to both the President and the Secretary were written by Grant himself, upon consultation with, and in full knowledge of, Mr. Stanton." Mr. W. further remarked that he should have deemed it a criminal negligence in Gen. Grant not to have accepted the place under the circumstances; and that it is now his duty to remain until the meeting of Congress, even though the President may want to get rid of him.

Gen. Grant, Mr. Washburne further represented, was filled with as great apprehension for the safety of the country as any man could be. He had remarked that, when in the war, he was comparatively easy about the result; he knew what was to be the end, and made his preparations accordingly; but now he was filled with alarm; he could not foretell what would transpire from day to day, and such anxiety he had never before had. So urgent had he been that Congress should do its full duty at the late session, that he personally entreated Senators to retain the power to dismiss the district commanders which the House had granted, fearing what has since transpired. (This statement in regard to Grant was corroborated by both our Senators, Mr. Washburne adding that Trumbull and Sherman alike were deaf to the appeals of the General.)

General Grant, further remarked Mr. Washburne, was not an indifferent or careless observer of passing events. He was an intelligent, reading man. He consulted the leading journals, and noted carefully the criticisms upon his movements. When his letters see the light—as they would surely when Congress met, if not before—they would be found as loyal, as true to the demands of the times, as any could ask. He did not know that Grant would be retained in the Cabinet ten days longer, but whether or not, the country could rest assured that he was with it, and that it would, sooner or later, recognize in him a fast and valued friend. As the final remark of this conversation, Mr. Washburne said that the confidence reposed in General Grant was not displaced; and that all loyal men could stand up for him without hesitancy or the shadow of a doubt.

Speaker Colfax on the Situation.

Speaker Colfax wrote a letter to the Border State Convention, which concludes thus: I have the fullest faith that the Congress which has dared to defy rebel hate, and Executive obloquy and reviling, will not allow such conduct to pass unrebuked. It is their duty to protect loyal men everywhere, and they will do it. Sneered at and denounced for sending investigating committees South, when the President's policy had ripened into that horrid crop of riots, outrages and massacres, the legislation which grew out of these investigations, has been indorsed since by all who love loyalty and abhor rebellion throughout the land. And though their first duty when they reassemble will be to determine whether the recent Executive action, so flagrantly defiant of the will of the people, and so notoriously at the demand of unrepentant traitors, does not require them to present the President at the bar of the Senate as an enemy of the country in his persistent revivification of the spirit of rebellion, an enemy of peace in his persistent obstruction to reconstruction by law, and a persistent defier of the expressed will of the nation—yet I cannot doubt that they will also execute that constitutional guaranty so wisely and so thoroughly that hereafter Union men in the Border States, as elsewhere, shall realize that devotion to the country has not brought upon them dishonor, tyranny and oppression; but that throughout the whole Republic every one who has proven his love of the Union, and who rejoices in its preservation, shall be adequately protected against all enemies by the power of the land he helped to save.

PERSONAL.

—Gossips say that the object of the royal meeting at Salzburg was to arrange a marriage between the Prince Imperial and the Princess Gisete of Austria, a charming little miss of eleven years—in fact a perfect little pearl of a Princess, a sort of good fairy to all around her and full of simplicity and tenderness.

—The General Napier who has been named for the lead in the British wildgoose flight into Abyssinia, is not one of the famous Napier family, but a Sir Robert Napier, who made a reputation in the Sikh wars and in the Chinese expedition, in which latter he commanded an expedition under Sir Hope Grant. He is a horseman, and said to have wonderful bodily endurance.

—A London correspondent of the Manchester Examiner says: It is understood that the Queen will shortly lose the personal services of her faithful Highland gillie, John Brown, who has been her Majesty's chosen attendant in her rides and drives ever since the death of the Prince Consort—who had a special liking for and trust in him—transferred him to her service. He was included, as it may be remembered, in the striking picture, by Sir Edward Landseer, of the "Queen at Osborne," in this year's Academy Exhibition, and no photograph could have given a more perfect fac simile of his personal appearance and respectful bearing. It appears that, despite the confidential post assigned him in the royal household, he is desirous to redeem the troth long ago plighted to a young Scotchwoman of his own grade, and it is understood that a residence in one of the lodges at Balmoral, with the supervision of a certain part of the domain, will prove a gratifying testimonial to him of the estimate entertained of his services by his royal mistress.

—The Pall Mall Gazette contradicts a report circulated in London, to the effect that Mr. Charles Dickens is in so bad a state of health that he has been ordered to abstain entirely from literary labor, and that his contemplated visit to America is to be undertaken principally with the view of restoring his health.

—The Paris correspondent of the Messager de Toulouse states that Marshal Niel, the French Minister of War, on dismissing the troops encamped at Chalons, made use of the following significant words: "Messieurs you have been studying the theory of war; you will soon study its practice."

—The New Bedford, Massachusetts, Mercury, of the 16th inst., says: "We heard, months ago, that General Butler, in the presence of some leading statesmen, of the Republican party, of whom Mr. Sumner was one, suggested the formation of a party, the cardinal point of whose faith should be repudiation. The proposition, it was said, met with no favor from any of those present, and provoked from Senator Sumner a severe rebuke. Such is the story, to which we gave small heed, because it seemed too monstrous that such a discreditable suggestion should be made. The report of Mr. Redpath's conversation with General Butler on the finances, and the letter of the latter published in the New York Evening Post of Friday last, make it not so improbable that such a project was long ago broached by him."

—European celebrities of all sorts seem to have fallen in love with us. At any rate we are likely to have, no matter for what reason, much of their company this fall and winter. Rev. Newman Hall, Rev. Charles Kingsley, and the famous Mrs. Yelverton, are already here. Dickens writes to a personal friend by the City of London, to say that he will certainly be in New York, (D. V.) by Christmas at the farthest. The talk about Spurgeon coming, too, is revived; and this time you need not be surprised if there is something in it.

The Black Mail Exposure.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

I notice your article on the subject of black mail, calling the attention of Mr. McCulloch to the matter of having the conduct and official acts of certain government officials investigated. It is high time this should be done. Men who would knowingly abuse the patronage the Government has enabled them to bestow would be very apt to abuse the trusts the Government confers upon them. It is lamentable to think that a low, ignorant and inflated individual should be the party on whom the head of a great nation relies, to indicate who will be sufficiently pliant tools to fit them for office. Low and base himself, the President selects men of like instincts to herd with. I hope your paper will press this black mail business until the Secretary will take proper steps to have the conduct of officials here investigated.

X.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

Has Soap "Riz?"

This question is now seriously engrossing the attention of housekeepers. They fear that the recent ventilation and puncturing of the big soap bubble will cause such an explosion as to seriously affect the soap market. Secretary McCulloch should see to this, and not permit a too sudden cutting off of the oil gauger's supply of that most necessary article to a successful prosecution of the business, commonly called cash, but which you strangely denominate black mail. To quiet our apprehensions, do tell us, Mr. Editor, if soap has riz—and, if not, do you think it will?

THE WIDOW'S SON—A POEM OF ANTIETAM.

BY FRANCIS DE HAES JANVIER.

"The only son of his mother, and she was a widow."—LUKE, VII., 12.

In the green valley of the Cumberland,
And where the rugged mountain range divides—
Sleepy portal, walled on either hand,
Through which the silver Susquehanna glides;
Still hidden, in the shadow of the wood,
An unpretending, moss-grown cottage stood.

An humble place—yet full of calm content;
The home of two, whose loving hearts were one—
Old age and youth, in pure affection blent;
A widowed mother, and an only son.
So the green ivy clasps the tottering wall,
Each holding each, till both together fall!

She lived for him—and still at night and morn
Committed him in secret to her God;
His life was her's, his aim to pluck each thorn
Which lay before her in the path they trod;
His highest hope, her sorrows to beguile,
And his supreme reward, his mother's smile.

Thus undisturbed the peaceful days went by,
And all around gave promise of repose;
When slowly, in the sunny Southern sky,
An angry cloud, with gathering blackness, rose—
The elements, in strange commotion stirred,
And muttering thunders in the air were heard!

It came apace—the storm of civil war—
And the bright heavens with darkness were o'ercast;
From hill to hill, the bale-fires blazed afar,
And through the vales shrieked the shrill bugle blast,
While from the North, rushed Freedom's loyal sons,
In prompt response to Sumter's signal guns!

No patriot paused—from every dwelling then
Rose the stern chorus of the battle cry;
The dusty highway teemed with armed men,
Resolved to conquer and content to die!
And with that dauntless host was numbered one,
Known from his childhood as "The Widow's Son."

Dark was the day, when sad but self-possessed,
He left his mother at the cottage door;
In tears, she pressed him to her aching breast,
With trembling lips she blessed him o'er and o'er;
Then sweetly smiling, to disguise her woe,
Blessed him again and calmly bade him go.

She gazed upon his form, as through the wood,
Ne'er looking back, he hurriedly withdrew;
And lingering, at the open door-way stood,
Long after he had vanished from her view;
And still, with feeble step, she came each day,
To watch the path by which he passed away.

But even then she wished not his return,
For she had yielded him at Duty's shrine;
And though the summons had seemed almost stern,
She had not faltered, and did not repine;
She deemed him now still dearer than before,
And yet, she loved her suffering country more.

The months wore on—the changing seasons passed,
And faithful to his trust he wearied not;
But through the burning heat and freezing blast,
Met, with a cheerful zest, his toilsome lot—
A patriot soldier, whose heroic heart
Of Freedom's mighty bulwark, formed a part.

'Twas in the autumn, and the sinking sun
Tipped the green hill-tops with a golden glow;
Where the bright waves of the Antietam run,
Through blooming banks, to fertile fields below;
Where Nature had bestowed, with lavish hand,
Her richest gifts to gladden Maryland.

The sky was cloudless, and the air serene,
The distance faded in the closing light—
When, from above, to sanctify the scene,
The saintly stars came beaming through the night;
But, in the darkness, on the earth beneath,
Stalked bloody War, and by his side was Death!

For, in that valley, stretching far away,
Beyond the margin of the crystal flood,
Rebellion's recreant host, in fierce array,
Led by the minions of foul treason, stood;
While, to the verge of the opposing bank,
The patriot army rested, rank on rank.

The morning dawned—but scarcely dawned, before
The din of battle on the silence broke;
Hurled, in the blazing cannon's deafening roar,
Down the dim vale, through clouds of sulphurous smoke—
Then, swept the patriot squadrons through the tide,
And deadly conflict raged on every side.

The flaming lines fought sternly—hand to hand:
The stifling air was rent with shot and shell,
The rattling musket, and the clashing brand,
The clanging trumpet, and the piercing yell;
While frantic steeds rushed, riderless, away,
And crushed the dead and dying as they lay.

Great was the slaughter—o'er the crimson field,
From heaps of carnage, rose expiring groans—
When suddenly above the combat, pealed
The trump of Victory, in exultant tones,
As Treason's banner, with its bloody bars,
Fell to the dust, before the stripes and stars!

The strife was ended, and the battle won;
The troubled air grew tranquil as before,
And, in the effulgence of the setting sun,
The verdant hills were beautified once more;
But thousands who hailed that opening morn,
Were ghastly, broken, bleeding and forlorn.

'Twas on that night—and, in a shattered wood,
Torn in the fight, and open to the sky,
With mangled frame, and faint from loss of blood,
A youthful soldier had lain down to die—
Though many a friendly form was round him strewn,
He rested there, in silence—and alone.

It was "The Widow's Son"—with upturned face,
His eyes were fixed upon the starry dome;
But painful consciousness had given place
To a sweet vision of his happy home;—
His mother met him, at the open door—
She clasped him in her loving arms once more!

The fancy fled—he turned his gaze below,
And, in the distance, through the shade, descried,
One, with a flaming torch, pass to and fro,
Who, drawing near, came quickly to his side;
And kneeling by him, with the bloody ground,
Essayed, with care, to staunch each streaming wound.

He seemed a stranger—and, in mute surprise,
The soldier scanned his kindly features o'er—
No martial badge adorned his simple guise;
No glittering weapon at his side he wore;
But, in the sacred bond of sympathy,
A BROTHER, and a CHRISTIAN, claimed to be.

A Christian brother—of that noble band
Who practiced what that blessed Savior taught;
Whose labors are the glory of our land;
Whose great commission from high heaven was brought;
When o'er the silent plains of Bethlehem, rang
The blissful anthem which the angels sang.

He brought the sufferer from the dreary wood,
And through the hill, amid the prostrate dead,
Down to the roadside, where a cottage stood,
And found him there a shelter, and a bed;
Then, smoothed his throbbing brow, and tangled hair,
And watched him with a father's tender care.

But all in vain—for, with the waning night,
His breath grew shorter, and his strength failed fast,
Till, in the early morning's misty light,
The hour approached which was to be the last;
And, with a quivering lip, and tearful eye,
The faithful stranger told him he must die.

Then, drawing still more closely to his side,
Spoke of the Savior's love to fallen men;
Of Him who, sinless, for the sinful died,
Yet lives, that those who die may live again;
And falling on his knees, in earnest prayer,
He bore him to the cross and left him there.

That prayer prevailed—the soldier raised his eyes,
And softly whispered, "Lord, remember me;"
When lo! as from the gates of Paradise,
He seemed an angel, in the gloom, to see;
Heavenly glory o'er his features spread;
He breathed his mother's name, and he was dead!

'Twas on that night the widow sat alone
Within her little cottage in the vale;
Her thin, white hair had still more silvery grown,
Her brow more furrowed and her cheek more pale;
Some strong presentiment had banished sleep,
And held her thus a weary watch to keep.

The hours went on—she noted not their flight;
She rose and slowly tottered to the door,
And, in the rising moon's uncertain light,
Gazed down the path she oft had watched before,
She saw a figure—through the wood it pressed,
And her lost son was folded on her breast!

The day appeared; its brightened glory gleamed
Down the dark mountain, 'mid the vapory air,
And through the little cottage window streamed;
But all was silent—only Death was there,
For, ere that morning cast its beams abroad,
The widow, with her son, had gone to God!

TURNER'S TIC DOULOUREUX OR
UNIVERSAL NEURALGIA PILL,
UNIVERSAL NEURALGIA PILL,
A SAFE, CERTAIN AND SPEEDY CURE FOR NEURALGIA AND ALL NERVOUS DISEASES.

It is an unfailing remedy in all cases of Facial Neuralgia, often effecting a perfect cure in a single day. No form of Nervous Disease fails to yield to its magic influence. Even the severest cases of Chronic Neuralgia and general Nervous derangements of many years' standing, affecting the entire system, are completely and permanently cured by it in a few days, or a few weeks at the utmost. It contains nothing injurious to the most delicate system, and can always be used with perfect safety. It is in constant use by the best physicians, who give it their unanimous and unqualified approval. Sent by mail on receipt of $1 and two postage stamps. Sold everywhere.
TURNER & CO., Sole Proprietors,
eod 120 Tremont street, Boston, Mass.

☞ HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS—Quinsy or inflammation of the throat is very prevalent during the Spring and Fall of the year. Thousands of persons have immediate recourse to these medicines on the first symptoms of attack, and thus not only save time but even dispense with the advice or attendance of a physician. Colds produced by the rapid and frequent changes of the atmosphere during this season, are speedily cured by the pills. These remedies fortify the body against the inclemencies of the winter. Sold by all druggists.

Used by hundreds of Congregations for Church or Communion Purposes.
ALSO,
EXCELLENT FOR LADIES AND WEAKLY PERSONS.

VINEYARDS, NEW JERSEY.
SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE,
FOUR YEARS OLD.
This justly celebrated native Wine is made from the juice of the Oporto Grape, raised in this country. Its invaluable
Tonic and Strengthening Properties
Are unsurpassed by any other native Wine. Being the pure juice of the grape, produced under Mr. Speer's own personal supervision, its purity and genuineness are guaranteed. The youngest child may partake of its generous qualities, and the weakest invalid may use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that afflict the weaker sex. It is, in every respect,
A WINE TO BE RELIED ON.
Invalids use SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE.
Females use SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE.
Weakly persons find a benefit by its use.
SPEER'S WINES in hospitals are preferred to other wines.
☞ Sold by Druggists and Grocers.

SWORD'S
Self Tempering Steam Power
BRICK MACHINE,
MANUFACTURED BY THE
PITTSBURGH BRICK MACHINE
AND
BRICK MANUFACTURING CO.
This Machine takes the clay direct from the bank, (without the preparation, by soaking, necessary for "soft mud" machines), and tempers it thoroughly, pressing, in steel moulds, brick stiff enough to be packed up eight high in the yard as made. For cutting with the trowel, bearing hard usage, and making a strong, true wall, there are no better brick known. The cost of making them by this machine is from 95 cents to $1 10 per 1,000, according to the rates of wages. This we guarantee. The machine is built entirely of iron and steel; and in the best style for strength and permanent use in working clay. Apply for circulars, giving full information, at the office,

CITY MATTERS.

RAILROAD POLICE APPOINTED.—Daniel Henry, James Robinson, James Lewis and Peter Peterson, have been appointed and commissioned as railroad policemen, with power to make arrests on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad.

LETTERS HELD FOR POSTAGE.—The following letters are held for postage at the Pittsburgh Postoffice: Mrs. Mollie Quick, Valley Head, Ala.; S. A. Crittenden, Elizabeth, Pa.; Barlow Stevens, New York, N. Y.; Christian Kramer, Columbiana O.; Geo. Barr, Wheeling, W. Va.; Gillespie & Mitchell, Arsenal, Pa.; Bunton, Miller & Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

THE MONONGAHELA BRIDGE.—The Managers of the Monongahela Suspension Bridge Company have been making a number of repairs and improvements during the present season. The entire structure has been repainted, and a neat office and toll house has been erected at the Pittsburgh end. The grade of the street at the mouth of the bridge has been raised several feet.

ALLEGHENY MONEY ORDER OFFICE.—The Allegheny City Postoffice has recently been established by the Government as a Money Order office, and money orders are now received and sent to all similar offices in the United States. Moneys sent through the money order office are sent without danger of loss, and are comparably cheaper than by sending it by express or by the registering process.

COLLISION AND ACCIDENT.—David Elkin, of Allegheny, was riding in a buggy, with his wife and child, out the Perrysville Plankroad, on Monday night, when the vehicle collided with a buggy coming along the road. The collision overturned Mr. Elkin's buggy, throwing himself, wife and child out on the road. Mr. Elkin escaped uninjured, but his wife was run over by the other buggy and injured so severely that she has been confined to her bed since the accident.

PERSONAL.—Jonah Woodruff, Esq., Superintendent of the Central Transportation Company, has returned to his old post of duty at the Union Depot, after a month's absence. During his absence the business was managed by Mr. Stevenson, Assistant Superintendent, who is glad that "Jonah" has returned to assist him in the many duties pertaining to the management of the "Silver Palace" line of sleeping cars, in which the traveling public are so much interested. Jonah is in the best of health, and announces the near completion of several new cars, still more elegant in finish than the ones now running between New York and Chicago.

The Roundheads.

The first annual meeting of the Society of the 100th Pennsylvania V. V. (Roundheads), was held at New Castle on Tuesday. Quite a large number of the survivors of this gallant regiment participated in the proceedings, and many were the memories revived and reminiscences recalled of their soldier life. An oration was delivered in the evening by the late Chaplain, Rev. R. A. Browne, D. D., President of Westminster College. He was followed by a brief address from Captain D. Critchlow and Judge McGoffin. The meeting closed with a banquet at ten o'clock P. M., at the Leslie House, which was a very pleasant and agreeable affair. The following officers have been elected for the ensuing year: President, Captain D. Critchlow; Vice Presidents, Captain J. L. McFeeter, Lieutenant James S. Stockding; Treasurer, Captain A. B. Campbell; Recording Secretary, Lieutenant S. L. Montgomery; Corresponding Secretary, Captain R. F. Moffatt.

Trespassing Upon Gardens--Boys Shot.

We have a stringent law for the protection of orchards and gardens against the ravages of boys, but boys who steal fruit are so hard to catch, and most men are so averse to prosecuting them even if caught, that the law is seldom enforced. Men generally become so indignant when they find boys trespassing upon their premises for the purpose of stealing, that their first impulse is to inflict personal chastisement or injury. This is not right, to be sure; but there is great palliation for the act, as the purloining of fruit, or the destruction of a favorite vine or tree is an act of vandalism calculated to arouse the ire of the most amiable. Boys know this very well, and when they go fruit stealing they assume all risks. On Tuesday night some boys attempted to strip a vineyard on Ledlie's Hill, back of Allegheny, and while they were busy taking off the clusters the proprietor discovered them, loaded his gun with shot, and discharged it at them. Two of the lads, named Logan and Woods, received the effects of the fire, but fortunately were not much injured. Logan was shot in the cheek, and Woods in the leg, but the shot were easily extracted. This ought to serve as a warning to boys who are similarly disposed.

County Executive Committee--Meeting Yesterday.

A meeting of the Union Republican County Executive Committee was held at the office of Alderman Sutherland yesterday afternoon. Col. Wm. A. Herron, from the Committee on Reception, reported that he had received a telegraphic dispatch from General Sheridan, dated at St. Louis, stating that he could not give the Committee a definite answer in regard to their invitation, until he arrived at Cincinnati, when he would telegraph to them and let them know whether he could accept it or not. On motion, the following named gentlemen were added to the County Executive Committee, and were requested to meet with the Committee daily, at half-past three o'clock P. M., until the time of the election, at the office of Alderman Sutherland, corner of Diamond street and Cherry Alley: John F. Jennings, Hon. John Morrison, Casper Gang, John K. Brown, John McDonald, Wm. Mittenswi, George Powell, Wm. M. Graham and John Williams. After transacting some business of a private and unimportant character, the Committee adjourned until half-past three o'clock this afternoon. The Committee, consisting of Gen. A. L. Pearson, Capt. E. A. Montooth and T. T. Everett, who were appointed to wait on General John A. Logan and endeavor to secure him to speak here, will leave this afternoon at three o'clock for Alliance, Ohio, where the General is to address a Republican mass meeting to-night.

Police Intelligence.

[Before Alderman Taylor.]

A SHOWER BATH.

Mary Schencks, of Pitt township, brought suit yesterday for assault and battery against one Peter Strahan. Mary states that she got into a little difficulty with Peter, when he became very angry and threw a bucket of water upon her. A warrant for his arrest was issued.

LARCENY OF CARPET BAGS.

Michael Matter charged John McConnell, Henry Moulder and Frank Shadler with the larceny of two carpet bags from Sweitzer Hall, in the Fifth ward. They were all arrested and committed to jail for a hearing to-day, in default of three hundred dollars bail each.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Abraham Greenwood made oath charging John Nugent and Matthew Fleming with assault and battery. A hearing in the case resulted in the discharge of Nugent and the holding of Fleming for trial.

TERRIBLE THREATS.

Mrs. Bridget Shields preferred a charge of surety against Mrs. Mehan, alleging that the latter threatened to break the necks of herself and her son, Martin, aged four years. The accused has not yet been arrested.

[Before Alderman Strain.]

CHARGED WITH BEING A GAMBLER.

William Brown yesterday appeared before Alderman Strain and made an information against Irwin Redpath, charging him with being a common gambler. In his information, Mr. Brown alleges that the defendant "did upon the day aforesaid (17th of September) sell pools in a certain horse race on the Oakland race course, situated in the county of Allegheny, and at the time and place aforesaid aid and assist to do the same, and that said defendant does engage in gambling for a livelihood, contrary to the act of Assembly in such case made and provided."

ALLEGED ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Mr. Brown also lodged another information against Redpath for assault and battery, alleging that at the Oakland Park, on Tuesday, the defendant wantonly assaulted him, striking him a severe blow on the face. Warrants were issued in both cases.

Philip Banjan made an information against William Sole for assault and battery. The parties live at Brinton's Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and deponent alleges that the defendant attacked him and struck him repeatedly in the face. A warrant for the arrest of the accused was issued.

[Before Alderman Mullin, of Allegheny.]

FALSE PRETENSE CASE.

Wm. Brown, keeper of a feed store on Chestnut street, Fourth ward, Allegheny, yesterday appeared at the office of this magistrate, and instituted suit against one Peter Jackson, for false pretenses. In this information Mr. Brown alleges that several days ago Jackson obtained feed from him to the value of over thirty-five dollars, by representing that he had money coming to him from Mr. Leonard Walter, and that he would pay him in a few days. He afterwards obtained seven dollars worth of feed, and said that if deponent would come to his yard at Duquesne borough he would pay the whole bill in lumber. Mr. Brown went to Duquesne Borough, when he ascertained that Jackson owned neither lumber-yard or any lumber—hence the suit. A warrant for the arrest of the accused was issued.

A. C. Newman, a clothing dealer, made an information against one Gustave Hauman for false pretense. On the 15th of June last, it is alleged, the defendant obtained from the prosecutor a vest and a pair of pantaloons, of the value of nine dollars, by representing that he was a conductor on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, that he would receive his salary on the 11th of July, and that he would then pay Mr. Newman for the clothing. Hauman failing to pay at the time he promised, Mr. Newman made inquiry and learned that he was not in the employ of the Railway Company at all, and that no money was due him from the company. Hauman having yet failed to pay the bill, Mr. Newman therefore brought suit. The accused was arrested and gave bail to appear this morning for a hearing.

ALLEGED LARCENY OF $100.

Michael Grogan, living in the Third ward, Allegheny, preferred a charge of larceny against Mrs. Mary Wagner. Mrs. Wagner was in the employ of deponent as a washerwoman, and on Monday last there was stolen from a bureau drawer in his house a roll of greenbacks amounting to one hundred dollars. From information received, deponent has reason to believe that the defendant is the party who committed the theft. The accused was arrested and held to bail for a hearing.

QUARREL BETWEEN BROTHERS.

John Fisher lodged complaint against his brother, Joseph Fisher, for assault and battery. The parties are colored, and live on Beaver street, in the First ward, Allegheny. On Tuesday they had a quarrel, and Joseph, it is alleged, attacked John, striking him on the mouth and knocking him down. A commitment for trial was lodged against Joseph, who is in jail, for a short term, having been committed by Mayor Morrison for disorderly conduct.

HAVING STOLEN GOODS IN POSSESSION.

Jacob Boon, owner of a brick yard in Reserve township, brought suit against one Nicholas Miller, living on Washington street, in the Seventh ward, Allegheny, for having stolen goods in his possession. Mr. Born alleges that some time since there were stolen from his brick yard a number of tools for making brick, consisting of two shovels, two picks, two spades, a hatchet, a hoe and some other articles, and he has reason to believe that they are now in the possession of the defendant. A search warrant was placed in the hands of an officer.

[Before Alderman Thomas.]

ALLEGED ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Mary Rahlkoof, an elderly lady, appeared before Alderman Thomas and preferred an information, charging John Herman with having committed an assault and battery upon her, by catching hold of her and pushing her violently until she nearly fell over. The difficulty arose in regard to a pool of stagnant water near the prosecutrix's residence. The defendant alleges that the water came from the prosecutrix's property, while the latter alleges that it comes from the defendant's property. A hearing was had last night, which resulted in the defendant being held to bail. The parties reside in the Eighth ward.

[Before Alderman McMasters.]

FELONIOUS ASSAULT ON A CRIPPLED SOLDIER.

Thomas Thomas, a one-legged soldier, appeared and made an information against Peter Goeddel and others unknown, for aggravated assault and battery. Goeddel keeps a drinking house in Lower St. Clair township, and on Saturday night last, Thomas alleges, he entered the saloon and had a little dispute with Goeddel. Goeddel then locked the door, and together with some parties in the bar-room, commenced an attack on Thomas. One of them struck him with a handy billy, knocking him insensible. Upon recovering himself he discovered that his head had been badly beaten and bruised, and one of his fingers almost cut off.

ILLEGAL LIQUOR SELLING.

Thomas Murphy also made information against Goeddel, charging him with selling liquor without a license, selling liquor on Sunday and selling liquor to minors. The accused was arrested and held to bail for a hearing on the four charges.

[Before Alderman Morrow.]

MAINTAINING A NUISANCE.

An action was brought by the Board of Health yesterday against the Pennsylvania Insurance Company, for maintaining a nuisance in the Seventh ward. The Company own a vacant lot on Bedford street, on which, it was alleged, there is a pond of stagnant water, which is calculated to engender disease in the neighborhood. The Alderman inflicted a fine of twenty dollars on the Insurance Company, and ordered them to abate the nuisance forthwith.

ERRATUM.

In our police reports on the 4th inst., we stated that Mrs. Catharine Carter had made an information against her husband, Andrew Carter, for assault and battery. The item should have been vice versa, Andrew Carter having brought suit against his wife for assault and battery.

[Before Alderman Humbert.]

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

John Burrer appeared at the office of this magistrate yesterday and made an information against John Trainer, charging him with assault and battery. In default of the necessary bail the accused was committed to jail for a hearing to-morrow afternoon.

PICTORIAL HISTORY OF PRISON LIFE.—T. J. Simpson & Co., have commenced the publication of a "Pictorial History of the Prison Life of Union Soldiers in the South." Each number is to be illustrated with an engraving of the prisoner of war whose history is recorded in the publication. The first number has a steel plate engraving of General Grant and his family, all excellent likenesses. This number also records the history of Captain John F. Michener, printer, of Washington county, Pa., and an officer of the 85th Pennsylvania Volunteers, Col. Joshua B. Howell. The history is well written, and contains much that is interesting. The work is to be published in monthly parts, at fifty cents each. The place of publication is Washington City. It is neatly printed, the type being large and the paper of excellent quality.

Disease of the Chest Cured.

PITTSBURGH, September 17, 1867.

DR. E. S. ABORN, No. 134 Smithfield street—Dear Sir:—Being confined to office work for a series of years, I found leaning over the desk seriously affected my chest, causing sleepless nights, cold sweats, followed by shooting pains. Through your atomization process of reaching the organs of the chest I have been so much relieved as to lead me in justice to you to send my testimony to its efficacy.

Respectfully yours,
M. G. CURRY,
Bookkeeper at McFarland & Collin's Carpet Store, No. 71 and 73 Fifth street.

Another Deaf Man Made to Hear.

I certify that I had been afflicted with deafness, and applied to Dr. Aborn, at No. 134 Smithfield street, and obtained relief.

WM. MORIN,
Wilkins street, Ninth ward.

WE would invite the attention of capitalists seeking advantageous investments in real estate to the very desirable property on Fourth street, offered for sale by the People's National Bank. This is one of the very best locations in the city, and the Bank having secured a site on Wood street for their new Banking House, wish to dispose of these lots, and will sell cheap, if application be made soon. See advertisement in another column.

BURGLAR PROOF LOCKS will be exhibited at the State Fair.

THIS is to certify that my son has been fourteen weeks sick with the typhoid and lung fever. Having been reduced to very great feebleness I began to discover symptoms of death. I had six doctors. They told me that they could do no more for him. I was recommended to send for the Indian Herb Doctor, of 194 Liberty street. I did so, and the effect of his medicines on his worn and diseased system was like magic. He is now able to attend to my store.

His name will go down to all posterity, emblazoned with a wreath of fame, and generations yet unborn will name him but to praise him.

GOTTFRIED FOX, 206 Smithfield street.
Boot and Shoe Store.

Country Sites Opposite Neville Island at Auction Sale.

A. Leggate, auctioneer, will hold a very attractive sale of lots from two to five acres each at Neville Station, on the Fort Wayne road, on Friday, this week, at 2 o'clock. The attention of business men and others engaged in the city, who long for retirement and pure air after the fatigue of the day, is especially directed to this sale. Business men can go to dinner, conveniently, so well arranged are the trains on this road. These lots are really beautiful; are studded with grand old forest trees, and possess some of the most magnificent scenic views on the Ohio. Intending buyers will find it to their interest to attend this sale. Plans at No. 159 Federal street, Allegheny.

BURGLAR PROOF LOCKS will be exhibited at the State Fair.

SIXTH STREET RESIDENCE FOR SALE.—We hope that those who want to buy desirable city property, or a splendid city residence, will not fail to read the advertisement of Jno. D. Bailey, Auctioneer, who will sell this day, at 3 P. M., the residence of the late Alex. Laughlin, Esq., on the premises, No. 25 Sixth street.

FARRAGUT has been handsomely received at Copenhagen, where the United States Minister gave an entertainment, which was attended by American visitors and residents, and by representatives of the Danish Government and Navy. But Messrs. H. Oppenheimer & Co., No. 85 Wood street, have received their splendid stock of Fall Tailoring goods, and Gents' Furnishing goods, which cannot be surpassed by any house in the city.

THIRTY DOLLARS REWARD.—If the "Indian Herb Doctor," of 196 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa., fails to detect Disease and locate its seat without asking his patient a question. Ye suffering, weak and afflicted. Nature's Garden has a Balm for thee.

"The simple herbs beneath our feet,
Well used, remove our pains complete."

Sixth Street Residence at Auction.

That desirable property, No. 25 Sixth street, (the late residence of Alexr. Laughlin,) will be sold this afternoon at 3 o'clock, on the premises, by John D. Bailey, Auctioneer. Parties wishing to obtain a fine residence in one of the best localities in the city should attend, as the sale is positive, being by order of the executors. The house contains twelve rooms, and is completely furnished with all modern improvements, such as water closets, bath room, &c., &c. The lot is 40x240 to Strawberry alley, with fine stable and carriage house on the alley. All the buildings have slate roofs, and are in excellent order.

Grand Trial of the Celebrated Fire Extinguisher.

Our readers will remember that during last summer several fires in the eastern cities were promptly put out by the celebrated Fire Extinguisher, and had not these little apparatuses been on hand at the time, the insurance men say that several disastrous conflagrations would have inevitably ensued. Last summer a trial was made on the "Point" in this city, with three or four of these Fire Extinguishers, and the result was so highly satisfactory and convincing as to the merits of the apparatus that many of our merchants and manufacturers immediately introduced them into their buildings, warehouses, factories, shops, etc. On Thursday, the 19th inst., at four o'clock P. M., there will be another trial given on the ground adjacent to the Atlas Boiler Works, Ninth ward, foot of Rush street. We recommend our readers to be present on that occasion to witness it.

DO JUSTICE TO NATURE.—It is ingratitude to nature not to preserve and keep in splendid order a good set of teeth. Nothing can be easier. All that is needed is to brush them with purifying Sozodont. It will make the mouth a perfumed palace. TTHS

Wear and Tear.

When the constitution is weak and the system depressed by the wear and tear of business life, which makes such tremendous drafts upon the body and mind, unless some healthful and strengthening tonic is resorted to, prostration will ensue, and disease creep unawares upon the victim of negligence. But if which is a genial and purely vegetable stimulant, be timely administered, the organization will resist and baffle the veins of epidemic and changes of temperature incidental to this season of the year, which disorder the nerves of the feeble.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS,

There is an active and permanent vitality in this remedy, which will prove of great benefit to the broken down and shattered constitution. It is the only tonic of which the stimulating principle is perfectly pure. Its basis is the essential principle of sound rye, which is admitted by analytical chemists to be the most harmless of stimulants, and this fluid is refined from crudities which belong to it as it comes from the manufacturer. The other ingredients are composed of medicinal plants and herbs, and contain not one harmful element in all their composition.

Wm. Semple's Mammoth Dry Goods Emporium in Allegheny City--A Few Facts for Wholesale and Retail Buyers, Etc.

The art of making money involves three requisites to which a man cannot pay careful attention without reaping great benefits from them. The first is a practical knowledge of the business in which he is engaged; the next is in the location of his place of business, and the last is in always giving his customers their money's worth in whatever they buy of him, and in never disappointing the expectations of the public whose confidence he has gained. We know of at least one merchant who from the beginning of his career has never overlooked the importance of these things. They lie at the foundation of his success, which is familiar to nearly everybody in this part of the country, and especially with regard to the first and last of the three points just mentioned, we may say, without the hazard of a contradiction, that he stands pre-eminent among the dry goods men of Western Pennsylvania. William Semple is a master mind in his line of trade. There is not a single detail in it with which he is not thoroughly familiar, and his knowledge of the many and various grades of fabrics which form part of his stock makes him one of the best buyers we have among us, and explains, in part, the reason why he is always able to sell his goods, both in the wholesale and retail departments, at the lowest Eastern cash prices. Mr. Semple's long experience in this branch of trade has given him a decided advantage in purchasing stock, which all who buy of him will concede, for he is generally first in the field with his goods, and they invariably embrace a full line of the different kinds he sells, and we know that so far as his prices are concerned, he can defy competition. Hence, his wholesale department is crowded every season with buyers, and his trade is rapidly increasing every year. We can say the same with regard to his retail department, which is one of the most complete and extensive at this end of the State. One of our cotemporaries, in speaking of Mr. Semple, justly remarks: "He enjoys the enviable reputation of never telling the public that he is going to do anything that he does not do. Whenever he says his goods will be of a certain quality, they are known to be of that quality, neither better nor worse; and when he promises that certain prices shall rule at his establishment, those are the prices which customers may depend upon. In this way he has established a confidence among his patrons which is enduring, and is profitable to both them and himself."

The same paper adds: "Mr. Semple's is a double store, located at Nos. 180 and 182 Federal street, Allegheny. Recent alterations have effected great improvements in it. Partitions in the rear have been torn away, and the rooms extended back from the street to the alley in the rear, and are lighted by large windows at either end, so that there are no dark corners, and customers in any part of the store can see exactly what they buy. The store is one hundred and ten feet long by forty feet wide. The retail department, on the first floor, is furnished with everything known to a first class dry goods establishment. Dress goods of all kinds, wool plaids, silk and wool poplins, cloakings, corsets, hosiery, gloves, hoop skirts, balmoral skirts, hats of the latest and most elegant styles, brilliant shawls, and notions and trimmings to the taste. Here are the best of white and brown blankets, prints of all patterns, flannels, plain and barred ginghams, checks, jeans, merinos, white goods of all kinds, coverlets, and other articles of every desirable kind. Gents can furnish themselves with undershirts, drawers, hosiery, gloves and cassimere goods, etc. In the large basement below is an inexhaustible stock of all the articles mentioned, so large and so well replenished that the most extended patronage cannot run it short. In the second story is the wholesale department, where everything required in the retail trade, including a large assortment of notions, is kept constantly on hand for country dealers. Goods are shipped from here to West Virginia, various points in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio. The prices ruling at this establishment are often even more favorable to purchasers than could be obtained at the manufactories, because Mr. S., obtains such large quantities that goods are granted him at such low prices as to enable him to make his sales at smaller figures than could be originally obtained by smaller purchasers. No one interested in purchasing dry goods either by wholesale or retail, should fail to call at Nos. 180 and 182 Federal street."

FINANCE AND TRADE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, September 18, 1867.

Whatever change is observable in local monetary matters to-day indicates closeness. There is not a plethora of good paper offering, yet much that is presented is quietly laid aside, and is finally disposed of through the brokers. The banks do not positively complain of scarcity of bankable means, but many of the borrowing class do, who, no doubt, are very sensible to some cause interposing between them and the satisfying of their pecuniary wants. In New York it is remarked that the preparation for the October quarterly bank statement is just at hand; and although the city banks are in a condition which may render unnecessary any "shinning" in order to make a good exhibit, yet the interior banks have been working very close upon their reserves, and, having nominal balances at New York, may have to realize upon securities here in order to make good their position, which would involve a loss of Legal Tenders by our banks.

—Government Bonds continue to decline, under pressure to realize on these securities. The reports received to-day at the banking houses of Ira B. McVay & Co., and James T. Brady & Co., show the following quotations:

U. S. 6s 1881	111¼
U. S. 5-20s, 1862	114¼
U. S. 5-20s, 1864	109¾
U. S. 5-20s, 1865, May and November	110¼
U. S. 5-20s, 1865, January and July	107¼
U. S. 10-40s	99¾
December Compounds, 1864	118¼
June 7-30s	107
July 7-30s	107
Gold	145
U. S. 5-20s, 1867	107¼

—The speculative movement in the Gold Room has subsided, and the market is left to its usual course. The premium remains higher than previous to the "bull" operations, although there is no "short" interest to sustain it, and the Treasury has supplied the wants of importers for customs duties. The predominant feeling of the market appears to favor a high premium, but there is no disposition to speculate for an advance. The borrowing demand is limited, and loans are made "flat" to 6 per cent.

—The railway list shows a slight recovery from its declining symptoms of yesterday:

New York Central Railroad	105¾
Erie Railroad	67
Reading Railroad	102⅝
Michigan Southern	80
Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad	85
Rock Island Railroad	102
Chicago & Northwestern Railroad	42
Chicago & Northwestern preferred	64
Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad	102
Ohio and Mississippi Certificates	27

—The Philadelphia Gazette notices the high prices which are so stubbornly maintained for breadstuffs. It says: The increased rates lately demanded for western grain and breadstuffs, and indeed for western produce of all kinds, the effects of which are marked in the business of New York and Boston as well as in our own city, seems to be one of the unfortunate matters of the day, growing out of reduced crop estimates, and still more from speculative combinations among western dealers. The farmers have caught the notion that they are to make instant fortunes, and do not send in their crops readily; while the merchants hold as much as they are able of their receipts with the design of raising the market. Thus the articles are held at prices superior to what they can command for consumption, and business does not progress. The abundance of money and slight demand for accommodation show that there is not much taste for speculation on the Atlantic frontier to meet the western determination, and even such advances as have been established have had a tendency thus far to repress rather than elevate business.

Consumers are not willing to return to the war rates which the western people seek, and see no necessity for doing so, and thus our trade is slack. As it is important to avoid as far as possible any inflation of prices, so that the products of the country may pass rapidly from the producer to the consumer; and as it is highly desirable to the industry of the country that its products should pass rapidly into market, so that the fall trade may be good and remunerative to all, we cannot but regret that the western dealers and producers should entertain opinions so much at variance with those which obtain here, and be disposed to prevent business by the tenacity with which they cling to them. The condition of the European markets does not indicate a great demand there, and the crops in various parts of the country have been much more than sufficient to meet our own wants. We are unable to see any good ground for the notions which are delaying the arrival of the crops from the West, and apprehend that if they are long persisted in the final revulsion will subtract more from the profits of holders than their limited gains can make good. This, very plainly, is not the idea of the West, and they are doing what they can to bull the market, and so are weakening the volume of trade for the moment.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, THURSDAY, September 19, 1867.

BUSINESS—The market yesterday, during the latter part of the day, was very much excited; the dispatches by the cable and from the east were conflicting. All agreed on an advance although they differed as to the exact amount. The report of 55½ francs for the Antwerp market was generally conceded to be correct. The operations in refined were 8,870 bbls; of course, the largest portion of the operations were resales of contracts, the advance in prices enabling the present sellers to make a handsome profit out of the difference, which, in most cases, were paid in cash. It would be a pretty difficult operation to find out how many times certain lots of oil had changed hands. The eastern market was very firm with plenty of buyers for October at 35c. most dealers there demanding 36c. There were plenty of offers of 35c for the last three months. The refined operations were as follows:

Transactions in Crude.

500 bbls S W, Philadelphia, Sept. B O, 33c.
870 bbls S W, Philadelphia, Sept. B O, 33c.

500 bbls S W, Philadelphia, Oct. B O, 35c.

CRUDE OIL—The market ruled very firm. The sales, however, were not worth noting for the best of all reasons—there was no stock to operate on. At Oil City the asking rates were $4 00@4 25 ₱ bbl. Crude was offered in this market at 13c for all 1867, without finding a purchaser; 12½c was offered for first water. The only sale reported was 110 bbls bulk, to arrive, at 13c. The advantages of the market were on the side of buyers.

WOOL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, WEDNESDAY, September 18, 1867.

Operations in wool, in this city and vicinity, seem to be at a complete stand-still, and likely to remain so until some movement, or rather improvement, takes place in the Eastern markets; for it is admitted that a fair trade is now going on in woolen goods of desirable kinds. A considerable amount of wool is selling, but the prices in both cases are low, and not remunerative. From a circular of a leading house in New York we make the following extract: "The wool market has taken us all back. Instead of a good demand this month, (September,) as was anticipated, the contrary has been the case. Prices seem to decline about 5c every two weeks, and a dragging market at that."

We quote the prices now paid by our city dealers as follows: Coarse fleece and tub washed wool 35@40c; medium 40@43c; fine wool 45@47c.

A Washington county wool grower writes to us that he is happy to inform us that the wool prospect for an advance is very brilliant. The wools of the eastern portion of Washington county have been pretty much taken up at 48@50c, and the principal part of them by New York speculators, firms that do not work at small margins. The manufacturers have not purchased the one hundredth part of our wools, as they formerly did.

RIVER TELEGRAMS.

Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, September 18.—River falling, with only twenty-six inches over the bar at the foot of the falls.

RIVER NEWS.

THE RIVER AND MATTERS ALONG THE WHARF.—The weather during the past two days was intensely hot. In trade below the bridge there was nothing done; above, the small boats will have full sway until the close of the week, when the Mail and People's Line of packets will again be placed on the track. During the time the boats have ceased running the officers have spared no expense in having their boats better fitted up for the fall trade.

THE steamer Ezra Porter, Capt. J. H. Porter, arrived at New Orleans on Thursday.

WABASH river is lower than it has been for twenty-five years.

THE Cumberland river is lower now than it has been for two years, and is still falling.

THE large gars and catfish are leaving the Arkansas, owing to the low stage of water, which is not of sufficient depth for their navigation.

CAPT. J. PORTEVENT'S new boat, building at Louisville for the Pearl river trade, will be ready to launch in a few weeks.

THE McComb brought the first bale of new cotton from Jacksonport to Memphis. She returned to White river with a fair trip.

THE steamer Mattie Roberts, which recently sunk, has been raised and repaired at Middleport, and will be ready for business as soon as there is a rise in the river.

CAIRO, September 16.—The Abeona, St. Louis to Cincinnati, passed here to-night. Clear in Port. The mercury, 98 degrees. River fell four inches, and is now fourteen feet below ordinary low water mark. Business dull.

THE Dubuque Herald of Saturday says:

Traveling on the river is uncertain business at present—nothing comes to time but freight bills, which are generally prompt. Low water troubles are increasing. The Milwaukee was nine hours going from Prescott to St. Paul, a distance of thirty miles or more. Boats are scraping sand bars all along.

A DISPATCH from St. Joseph, Mo., dated September 14th, says:

There is but three feet of water in the channel between here and Omaha.

The arrivals to day were—Waverly, from Sioux City; Glasgow, from Omaha, and the Mary McDonald, from Fort Buford.

THE Chattanooga (Tenn.) American Union, of Friday, says:

The survey of the Tennessee river, from this point to Itsmouth, is to be commenced at an early day. Mr. Wallace and other gentlemen, employed by General Wright upon the survey, have been in this city for some days, and are only waiting for the return of Colonel Gaw from New Orleans to commence operations. A letter has been received from Colonel Gaw, announcing his expectation of arriving in this city on the 17th inst.

THE St. Paul Press of Friday, says another boat belonging to Uncle Samuel arrived yesterday, the C. J. Caffery. She was bought at St. Louis by General Warren for the purpose of scraping channels. Her dimensions are about 150 feet by 28 feet, and the Captain states that, with fuel on board and in good running trim, "she will walk on 30 inches," or less. James F. Griffith commands her. She will be repaired immediately, and one of the triangular scrapers attached, when she proposes to scrape the bottom of the Mississippi river, or break a wheel.

LOUISVILLE, September 16—Noon.—The river has fallen six inches during the past forty-eight hours. There is now two feet three inches in the canal and 22 inches down Indian chute. This is the lowest five inches down for several years. Along the Lower Ohio the channel is well defined with about three feet water. Ferry boats and others are having a great deal of trouble on the Portland bars.

The Rob Roy was aground there all night and until ten o'clock this morning. The ferryboat pulled her off. She is now aground at Fish Point, below the city, and the ferryboat has gone to her aid.

The Telegraph passed here yesterday afternoon. We had a fine rain yesterday afternoon, and there are now indications of more rain. Thermometer 82. The Messenger is substituted for the Ida Rees on the Mail Line.

MEMPHIS ITEMS.—The Bulletin of Saturday says: The prize offered by Commodore Davis, of the Memphis and White River Packet Company, for the first bale of new cotton shipped from White River to this market, was won by Clark & Merrill, Indian Bay. The prize consists of 3 bbls of pork, 2 bbls of flour, a free passage to and from Memphis, and oceans of whisky. The bale was brought up by the Rowena, and consigned to Thos. H. Allen.

The wharfboat Michigan, which has been laid up at the Arkansas side of the river for some months, has been taken by the city authorities, and will be located near President Island for quarantine and hospital purposes.

The cotton crop along White River is excellent, and hands are now actively engaged in picking. The corn crop is also all that can be desired.

The Memphis and White River trade is improving so rapidly that it would not be surprising to learn of Captain Davis bringing another boat into the line.

PROPOSALS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Sealed Proposals will be received by the Burgess of the Borough of McKeesport, until the FIRST DAY OF OCTOBER NEXT, for Grading and Macadamizing Market street, from the south side of Fifth street to the Monongahela river. Specifications can be seen by applying to the Burgess or Secretary.

JAMES E. HENDRICKSON, Burgess.
McKeesport, September 12, 1867.

OHIO RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at the office of the Superintending Engineer, Pittsburgh, southwest corner of Third and Market streets, until SATURDAY NOON, September 21st, 1867.

For Removing Obstructions

From the Ohio River, consisting of Snags, Trees, Sunken Logs, Boats, Barges and Wrecks, &c.

Bidders will specify the price per day for each day's work, for which they will agree to furnish everything necessary and do the work, under the superintendence of a person to be appointed by the said Engineer. Said price to cover the furnishing of a light draught steamer, two strongly decked flats, one crane and crane boat and the necessary screws, chains, ropes, levers, saws, axes, fixtures, etc., suitable for such work, and including the pay and expenses of Captain, Pilot, Engineer and Crew and six men for running the steamer and doing the work. All expenses to be paid and all risks borne by the party proposing, it being understood that the Government will be responsible for the payment of nothing more than the sum per day that may be agreed upon.

Proposals will be received for two steamers, &c.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids if it may be deemed to the interest of the Government so to do.

The work is of the same character as that now carried on with the steamer "Greenback."

Blank forms of proposals will be furnished on application to the office; the proposals to be accompanied with the guaranty of two responsible sureties.

For further information apply at the office in Pittsburgh, by letter or otherwise.

By order of the Chief of Engineers of the Army of the United States.

BANKERS' AND MERCHANTS' SECOND GRAND CONCERT was given at Irving Hall, August 24th. It was a grand success. The large hall was filled with the most respectable citizens of New York. The Committee that was appointed at the first Concert, announced to the audience that they would distribute the prizes at the next Concert which will take place at Irving Hall, on the 24th of September, 1867.

When the Committee made this announcement the audience gave immense applause. They were pleased to know that the prizes would be distributed at the next Concert on the 24th.

This Grand Distribution of Prizes will be conducted on the

MUTUAL BENEFIT PRINCIPLE.

A PRO RATA DISTRIBUTION OF PROFITS TO TICKET HOLDERS.

CAPITAL, - $1,287,148.

TICKETS ONE DOLLAR EACH,

And limited to One Million Two Hundred and Eighty-seven Thousand One Hundred and Forty-Eight.

THE FAIREST AND MOST IMPARTIAL PLAN OF PRESENTATION YET OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC.

A Prize with Every Ticket.

PROSPECTUS.

A number of the leading Bankers and Merchants of New York, in consideration of the great success which has attended many of the Charitable Presentation Entertainments of the day, have formed themselves into a company, with the view of inaugurating an enterprise which shall return them a fair profit, shall offer greater advantages to ticket-purchasers than any yet presented; and which being conducted upon a perfectly legitimate and business basis, shall be free from those objectionable features which have characterized many of these enterprises.

To this end they have consigned the sale of tickets, and the registering the same, to Clark, Webster & Co., Bankers and Managers, No. 62 Broadway, New York, who will keep the records in their custody until the day of the Grand Presentation Entertainment, when they will be handed over to a committee selected by the audience to make an impartial distribution of presents.

A reference to the number of presents and the general plan of distribution, given below, will convince even the most skeptical of the great advantages which will accrue to all who participate in the enterprise; and the Commercial and Financial standing of the Company, and the Managers and Bankers thereof, will, they hope, prove a sufficient guaranty of the fairness and impartiality with which everything in connection with the scheme will be conducted, and that the interests of ticket-holders will be most strictly watched over and guarded. In fact, it is the desire of the Managers to conduct every transaction for the mutual benefit of whoever shall purchase a ticket, and scrupulously to avoid any and everything which could in the slightest degree diminish the profits which are likely to accrue to all who invest.
